Krug Strives To Keep Soft Coal Mines Operating

More Pits Close Despite Seizure; Union Proposals Are Considered

Government Still Lacks Assurance Miners Will Work after Truce

Interior Secretary Intends To Keep UMW Demands Confidential

By HAROLD W. WARD

WASHINGTON, May 22 (AP) — With the number of idle soft coal miners growing rapidly despite government seizure of the pits, Secretary of Interior J. A. Krug could express tonight only a conditional "hope" that a complete shutdown next week would be averted.

Striving for a bargain with John L. Lewis to keep coal flowing, Krug, the government mine boss, said he still had no assurance from the United Mine Workers' chieftain that a full-scale work stoppage would not occur.

"It is very possible," Krug told a news conference, "that the government's position on all the principles [illegible]d in a new contract) can be decided before Saturday night. The execution of a contract within that time would be very difficult.

"I hope that if an accord on the things that make a contract appear certain, the workers can be kept on the job."

Saturday night marks the expiration of the present two-weeks' truce, which was called after a forty-two-day strike.

2,100 Mines Are Closed

The truce, and government seizure which took effect last midnight failed, however, to bring full production of coal. In fact, workers at 243 mines joined the list of idle today. This brought the number of shutdown mines to more than 2,100 out of a total of 4,500. More than a third of the 400,000 miners were not working.

Krug said that the negotiations with Lewis will take time. First, he said, details of the twenty-page old contract which Lewis terminated for the United Mine Workers April 1, touching off the forty-two strike, must be examined.

Without Lewis's support, Krug said, it is unlikely the government "can persuade the miners to go back." He referred to those miners already idle, and added:

"Unless we get the support of the leaders it is unlikely the miners will stay at work after Saturday."

Krug said he had no such assurance from Lewis up to now. The mine leader had no comment on the situation as he left the day-long conference with Krug.

Krug, and vice-Adm. Ben Moreell, his deputy in running the mines, said no conference would be held before tomorrow afternoon, to give them time to study Lewis's proposals, which the mine chief gave them to-

Argentina Joins Food Conference At Washington

Expanded Allocating Board To Combat Famine Is Considered

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

WASHINGTON, May 22 (AP) — Argentina belatedly joined today an international food conference which began leaning toward the idea of an expanded food allocating board to combat famine for the next year or two.

The United States, Britain and Canada have proposed that famine relief for the emergency period be handled through the Combined Food Board of which they are the only members now. But they are suggesting that some fifteen other countries be added to it, especially those which now work with its commodity committees.

A high conference official said Russia also undoubtedly would be invited to take out a membership. She is not represented at the conference.

Argentine Foreign Minister Juan Cooke advised the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization, sponsor of the conference, that a delegate and two advisers have been named. All three are in the United States already.

Under plans now beginning to jell, the FAO might take over all food problems for the United Nations in eighteen months or two years, upon the demise of the proposed expanded allocating board which itself would work with FAO.

D. A. Fitzgerald, deputy United States member of the Combined Food Board, told Congress today that "this country need not feel ashamed of the job that has been done" in feeding famished peoples.

Asked by Rep. Granger (D-Utah) whether United States commitments have been met, Fitzgerald replied yes, explaining the government had promised to "make every effort to export 400,000,000 bushels (of grain)" during the year ending June 30 and he expected it to do so by shipping 380,000,000 bushels of wheat and flour and the rest in corn and other grains.

Appearing before the House Agriculture committee, Fitzgerald supplied these figures:

At the end of this crop season the United States will have about eight-tenths of a bushel of wheat per person, Canada about three bushels, Argentina about two, and Australia one to one and one-half. Further, he said, the United States has supplied seventy-two per cent of UNRRA's money and eighty-three per cent of the wheat UNRRA has bought.

"Yet," snorted Chairman Flannagan (D-Va), "we start out as a Good Samaritan and end up a villain."

Flannagan has contended that "irresponsible statements" have created the impression abroad that America is not doing its job. But when he asked about this, Fitzgerald said he found the majority of countries he visited on a world tour with former President Herbert Hoover "appreciative" of what the United States has had done.

18 Brotherhoods, Carriers Accept Proposal; Strike Is Set for Today

Whitney and Johnston Will Give Decision on Proposition Today

LEADERS OF UNIONS REMAIN IN CAPITAL

Proposal Provides 18 1-2 Cent Boost, Withdrawal of Rules Changes

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON, May 22 (AP) — President Truman offered a solution to the railroad dispute tonight which the carriers and eighteen brotherhoods accepted but which the engineers and trainmen held "unfavorable."

The two brotherhoods which have called a strike for 4 p. m. (local standard time) tomorrow withheld their acceptance or rejection for the night. Their leaders are to give their answers to Mr. Truman tomorrow morning.

The proposal is "less favorable than the recommendation of the fact-finding board" which the brotherhoods previously rejected, declared A. F. Whitney, head of the trainmen.

It provides, he said, for a wage increase of eighteen and one-half cents an hour—as compared with sixteen cents awarded by the board—but withdrawal by the unions for one year of forty-five changes they seek in working rules.

These rules changes, involving overtime and various other extra payments, would yield more money to many of the workers than the basic wage rise. The fact-finding board said it would take "months" to decide these questions and made recommendations on only a few, remanding the rest to further negotiations.

The question whether the railroads, now under government operation, are to be crippled by a strike tomorrow or whether the administration has weathered another grave labor crisis with its eighteen and one-half-cent wage rise formula thus remained uncertain tonight.

Truman Follows Wage Pattern

An eighteen and one-half cent wage increase would follow the pattern set when the president proposed that figure to settle the steel strike. In the railroad dispute, however, the rules changes which the brotherhoods sought bulked larger than the wage increase. The carriers estimated that the changes would cost them $800,000,000 a year, compared with $750,000,000 involved in the wage demands.

Among the rules changes which the unions seek are more liberal provisions for overtime and standby pay, vacations, sick leave and extra pay for engineers operating larger-type locomotives.

The eighteen and one-half cent proposal follows the general postwar wage increase pattern. The fact-finding board referred to by Whitney had recommended a sixteen-cent boost, or $1.28 a day.

Chinese General Hopes Reds Will Yield Changchun

Government Troops Are Reported 28 Miles from Manchurian Capital

MUKDEN, May 22 (AP)—Unopposed Chinese government troops were reported within twenty-eight miles of Changchun today and their commander expressed hope the Communists would surrender that capital of Manchuria to spare it further destruction.

Military dispatches said the Chinese First army — one of the governments finest — had sent vanguards racing seven miles beyond Kungchuling, Communist citadel thirty-five miles southwest of Changchun.

This would indicate some units had by-passed Kungchuling, which sits among low hills forming a natural barrier for any military force pressing on Changchun from the south.

Communist troops, among the best available for the defense of the capital, had massed inside Kungchuling, bent on holding government forces trying to recapture Changchun.

Gen. Tu Li-Ming, commander of all government troops in Manchuria, issued a statement saying he hoped the "bandit force" (Communists) would repent and give up Changchun, Changchun already had been battered by a four-day battle in which Chinese Communists overwhelmed a small government force and captured the city April 18, after Russian occupation forces had withdrawn.

House Committee Fights To Keep 1,079-Ship Navy

Chamber Is Asked To Override Appropriations Group's Plan

WASHINGTON, May 22—(AP)—The House Naval committee launched a fight today to keep 1,079 combat ships in the postwar navy. It called on the House to override the Appropriations committee which proposed to trim out 114 vessels.

The naval group's stand, reported as unanimous by Chairman Vinson (D-Ga), drew the lines for a bitter floor fight tomorrow over the $4,639,659,000 navy supply bill for the fiscal year starting July 1. The Appropriations committee approved the bill unanimously yesterday. The House itself recommended the 1,079 figure by unanimous action late last year in a resolution shelved by the Senate.

The Appropriations committee's plan calls for 965 combatant vessels, which, Vinson told reporters, "means the scrapping of 114 ships which the House unanimously has said should remain in the fleet."

Vinson said he will offer amendments tomorrow to restore approximately $122,000,000. That amount, he explained, is needed for maintenance and operation of the 114 ships.

In addition, the Georgian said, he will seek restoration of authority to contract up to $275,000,000 in advance for planes as sought by the bureau of naval aeronautics.

Vinson said Adm. Nimitz had warned that the "national security would be jeopardized if we did not have Plan 1, providing for 1,079 ships."

Senate Declines To Go On Record as Favoring Health, Welfare Funds

Pepper's Proposal Is Defeated 40-12; Vote on Byrd's Amendment, Requiring Joint Administration of Such Funds by Management, Labor, Is Slated for Vote Today

WASHINGTON, May 22, (AP) — The Senate rejected tonight by a 40 to 12 vote a proposal that it go on record as favoring the establishment of industrial health and welfare funds.

In its first vote on labor disputes legislation pending since May 13, the Senate defeated an attempt by Sen. Pepper (D-Fla) to authorize funds similar to that sought by John L. Lewis for the United Mine Workers. Pepper proposed that employers who failed to bargain regarding such funds would be guilty of violating the National Labor Relations act.

Pepper had offered his amendment as a substitute for one by Sen. Byrd (D-Va) which had wide support by Democrats and Republicans.

Defeat of the Pepper substitute apparently cleared the way for an early vote on the Byrd proposal, which would require that any such health funds be equally administered by management and labor representatives.

Democratic Leader Barkley (Ky) announced immediately after the vote that the Senate would meet at 11 a. m. (EST) tomorrow, an hour earlier than usual, and the Senate then quit for the day. Barkley indicated he expects a vote tomorrow on the Byrd proposal.

Sen. Lucas (D-Ill) arose on the nearly empty Senate floor today, cocked an eye at the crowded visitors' galleries and explained for the folks "from back home" that senators have so much mail to answer these days that "they can do little else."

"It's getting so a United States senator is nothing more than a glorified office boy," he complained.

Lucas said the pending labor legislation and other matters have prompted so much mail that he has been compelled to "dump it into wastebaskets." Sen. Morse (R-Ore) also reported using his wastebasket for certain mail.

Lucas expressed the belief that "somebody is getting paid" to drum up "this propoganda" which, he added, has no effect upon Congress.

Lucas declared that if he tried to answer all his recent mail "I would be busy forty-eight hours every day" just signing replies.

He said that frequently when he received letters asking his vote one way or another, he replied with a request for detailed reasons or an explanation of the bill.

"I have not received a reply once in a hundred times," he added.

Security Council Refuses To Drop Iranian Question

Ala Expresses Doubt That All Soviet Troops Have Been Withdrawn

By MAX HARRELSON

NEW YORK, May 22 (AP) — The United Nations Security Council refused to drop the Iranian case today after hearing Iranian Ambassador Hussein Ala express doubt that all Soviet troops had left the country.

Ala, called to the council table in a move to clarify the confused situation, told the delegates he did not feel that a message received last night from Premier Ahmed Qavam was "a categorical statement" that the withdrawal had been completed.

He also declared that he believed Soviet elements continued to interfere in the internal affairs of Iran.

Vote Is Unanimous

The council voted unanimously to adjourn the discussion but keep the case on the agenda indefinitely with the understanding that the discussions would be reopened upon the request of any delegate.

The official transcript showed that the vote was 9 to 1. However, reporters tabulating the count observed that Polish Delegate Oscar Lange, who had urged the case be dropped, raised his hand belately after he found himself alone in opposing the proposal of Netherlands Delegate Eelco Van Kleffens.

The council then rejected a proposal by Lange that the council send the Iranian government a telegram asking "a straight yes or no answer" to the question as to whether it was satisfied with Soviet withdrawals.

Gromyko Boycotts Meeting

Only Alexandre Parodi, of France, president of the council, supported Lange in this proposal.

Then the council quickly adjourned, subject to the call of Parodi.

Negro Is Sentenced To Hang for Rape

ANNAPOLIS, Md., May 22. (AP)—A three-judge Anne Arundel County Circuit Court today convicted Charles William Ross, 20, of rape and sentenced him to hang. It acquitted his 21-year-old brother, Walter, of the same charge.

Presiding Judge James Boylan, in passing sentence upon Charles, said, "You have taken part in one of the most atrocious crimes in the history of Maryland . . . Your guilt is established beyond any reasonable doubt and the court has but one course to follow."

The accused took the sentence without any visible sign of emotion as his mother, Ida Washington, broke into hysterical weeping outside the crowded court room.

The Ross brothers were two of four Huntsville negro youths accused of raping a 19-year-old Seat Pleasant girl March 17. Raymond Washington, 15, and Willie Taylor, 16, were tried in Prince George's county and sentenced to hang.

Russell Morris, Washington, attorney for the brothers, said he would appeal Charles's case.

As Charles was led away, Walter sat in an antechamber of the sheriff's office, shaking his head and muttering to himself. His mother had to be led from the court house.

Official of DAR Blames Rep. Luce For "Row" in Continental Congress

By JAMES P. HACKETT

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 22 (AP)—A DAR official today blamed Rep. Clare Boothe Luce (R-Conn) for causing a "row" at the society's fifty-fifth Continental Congress over the "white artists only" clause in Constitution hall rental contracts and said if she had not injected herself into the matter it would have been settled quietly.

"Personally, I think its an awkward clause and I think it could be re-worded more diplomatically," Mrs. Grace L. H. Brosseau, Greenwich, Conn., national chairman of the Daughters of the American Revolution resolutions committee told reporters.

The congress has ordered dissolution of a seventeen-woman "committee against racial discrimination in the use of Constitution hall," headed by Mrs. Luce. The committee had sought deletion of the rental contract phrase after the DAR had refused Negro Pianist Hazel Scott permission to use the hall for a concert last fall.

"If Clare Luce had not injected herself into this, it would have been settled long ago," Mrs. Brosseau said. "The board would have acted quietly on it, if it had come from a veteran member, but the national board is not going to be dictated to by a woman who has not even attended a DAR meeting."

Mrs. Brosseau said "we have had rows in the DAR before, but this isn't a racial discrimination issue—it's a matter of DAR policy."

Mrs. Julius Y. Talmadge, Athens, Ga., president general of the DAR, told reporters "this matter has been

End of Subsidies Next May Is Voted By Senate Group

WASHINGTON, May 22 (AP) — The Senate Banking committee voted, 14 to 2, today to end all government subsidy payments May 1, 1947 and hold them to $1,100,000,000 in the meantime.

The subsidies are paid to hold down costs to consumers or to spur production of needed articles.

The committee also voted, 10 to 8, to abolish OPA's much-criticized maximum average price regulation—"MAP"—which required manufacturers to continue production of the same ratio of low-priced clothing as before the war.

The subsidy provision was written into the price control extension bill at an afternoon session. Earlier in the day, Sen. Capehart (R-Ind) had lost, 11 to 7, his motion to abolish all food subsidies next July 1.

The compromise subsidy amendment, offered by Sen. McFarland (D-Ariz), provides approximately $900,000,000 for food subsidies and $200,000,000 for subsidy payments on copper, lead, zinc, petroleum and rubber, according to Sen. Taft (R-Ohio).

In contrast to the $1,100,000,000 total voted by the Senate committee, OPA had asked $2,051,000,000 in subsidies for the fiscal year beginning next July 1. Of that total, $1,770,000,000 was requested for food subsidies.

The House had voted to scrap all subsidies by the end of this

Lidice's Widows Are Spectators At Frank Hanging

By ALVIN J. STEINKOPF

PRAGUE, May 22. (AP) — Eight thousand spectators, including widows of the men slaughtered at Lidice, watched without pity today as Karl Hermann Frank was hanged in Pankrac prison courtyard for being chiefly responsible for the massacre.

Those of Lidice's widows who were able to come — and widows of some of the 30,000 other Czechs for whose executions Frank was adjudged indirectly responsible — occupied the second row of seats. Ahead of them were only the officials.

Not the slightest gleam of compassion could be seen in that long row of unforgiving eyes as Frank, garbed in a ragged Nazi elite guard uniform, walked quietly between two guards. At his own request he was not shackled.

The ruler of Czechoslovakia under Nazism had to stand under the dangling hangman's noose for eight minutes, in accordance with prison formality, while a digest of the verdict was re-read by Antonin Kozak, judge of the people's court which convicted him yesterday. It found him responsible, among other crimes, for the destruction of Lidice and the murder of its male population.

Frank was informed there was no

Laveck Urges O'Conor, Radcliffe To Withdraw Their Candidacies

BALTIMORE, May 22 (AP) —John E. Laveck, candidate for the Democratic nomination for United States Senator, called today upon both Gov. O'Conor and Sen. Radcliffe to withdraw their candidacies, so that "Maryland may yet send a senator to Washington that will be an honor to the state and to the nation."

In telegrams to O'Conor and Radcliffe he said that "certainly I shall be more than happy to follow your example and withdraw my candidacy."

Laveck's telegrams did not mention any possible compromise candidate by name, but said he should be "unencumbered by political debts and ambitious to serve his country with honor."

The telegrams to O'Conor and Radcliffe declared:

Truman Approves Housing Program

WASHINGTON, May 22 (AP)—The emergency housing program, intended to provide 2,700,000 homes for veterans in two years through private construction, became law today with its approval by President Truman.

Housing Expediter Wilson W. Wyatt, who was given broad controls over building materials prices and exports of scarce lumber, said the legislation throws the program "into high gear."

The measure provides $400,000,000 for subsidies to spur production of bottleneck materials. The president termed this feature the "heart" of the program.

It also increases by $1,000,000,000 the government's authority to insure home loans by private capital, protecting lenders against risks incurred by selling homes on small down payments.

Veterans are given preference by the law in buying or renting houses.

The law continues until the end of 1947 the wartime authority to exercise first claim on scarce building materials for construction of low and medium cost homes. It puts price ceilings on new homes, although Congress turned down proposals to hold resale prices of existing houses.

The Appropriations committee approved the bill unanimously yesterday. The House itself recommended the 1,079 figure by unanimous action late last year in a resolution shelved by the Senate.

The Appropriations committee's plan calls for 965 combatant vessels, which, Vinson told reporters, "means the scrapping of 114 ships which the House unanimously has said should remain in the fleet."

Vinson said he will offer amendments tomorrow to restore approximately $122,000,000. That amount, he explained, is needed for maintenance and operation of the 114 ships.

In addition, the Georgian said, he will seek restoration of authority to contract up to $275,000,000 in advance for planes as sought by the bureau of naval aeronautics.

Vinson said Adm. Nimitz had warned that the "national security would be jeopardized if we did not have Plan 1, providing for 1,079 ships."

Senate Declines To Go On Record as Favoring Health, Welfare Funds

Pepper's Proposal Is Defeated 40-12; Vote on Byrd's Amendment, Requiring Joint Administration of Such Funds by Management, Labor, Is Slated for Vote Today

WASHINGTON, May 22, (AP) — The Senate rejected tonight by a 40 to 12 vote a proposal that it go on record as favoring the establishment of industrial health and welfare funds.

In its first vote on labor disputes legislation pending since May 13, the Senate defeated an attempt by Sen. Pepper (D-Fla) to authorize funds similar to that sought by John L. Lewis for the United Mine Workers. Pepper proposed that employers who failed to bargain regarding such funds would be guilty of violating the National Labor Relations act.

Pepper had offered his amendment as a substitute for one by Sen. Byrd (D-Va) which had wide support by Democrats and Republicans.

Defeat of the Pepper substitute apparently cleared the way for an early vote on the Byrd proposal, which would require that any such health funds be equally administered by management and labor representatives.

Democratic Leader Barkley (Ky) announced immediately after the vote that the Senate would meet at 11 a. m. (EST) tomorrow, an hour earlier than usual, and the Senate then quit for the day. Barkley indicated he expects a vote tomorrow on the Byrd proposal.

Sen. Lucas (D-Ill) arose on the nearly empty Senate floor today, cocked an eye at the crowded visitors' galleries and explained for the folks "from back home" that senators have so much mail to answer these days that "they can do little else."

"It's getting so a United States senator is nothing more than a glorified office boy," he complained.

Lucas said the pending labor legislation and other matters have prompted so much mail that he has been compelled to "dump it into wastebaskets." Sen. Morse (R-Ore) also reported using his wastebasket for certain mail.

Lucas expressed the belief that "somebody is getting paid" to drum up "this propoganda" which, he added, has no effect upon Congress.

Lucas declared that if he tried to answer all his recent mail "I would be busy forty-eight hours every day" just signing replies.

He said that frequently when he received letters asking his vote one way or another, he replied with a request for detailed reasons or an explanation of the bill.

"I have not received a reply once in a hundred times," he added.

Security Council Refuses To Drop Iranian Question

Ala Expresses Doubt That All Soviet Troops Have Been Withdrawn

By MAX HARRELSON

NEW YORK, May 22 (AP) — The United Nations Security Council refused to drop the Iranian case today after hearing Iranian Ambassador Hussein Ala express doubt that all Soviet troops had left the country.

Ala, called to the council table in a move to clarify the confused situation, told the delegates he did not feel that a message received last night from Premier Ahmed Qavam was "a categorical statement" that the withdrawal had been completed.

He also declared that he believed Soviet elements continued to interfere in the internal affairs of Iran.

Vote Is Unanimous

The council voted unanimously to adjourn the discussion but keep the case on the agenda indefinitely with the understanding that the discussions would be reopened upon the request of any delegate.

The official transcript showed that the vote was 9 to 1. However, reporters tabulating the count observed that Polish Delegate Oscar Lange, who had urged the case be dropped, raised his hand belately after he found himself alone in opposing the proposal of Netherlands Delegate Eelco Van Kleffens.

The council then rejected a proposal by Lange that the council send the Iranian government a telegram asking "a straight yes or no answer" to the question as to whether it was satisfied with Soviet withdrawals.

Gromyko Boycotts Meeting

Only Alexandre Parodi, of France, president of the council, supported Lange in this proposal.

Then the council quickly adjourned, subject to the call of Parodi.

As the council debated the controversial question, which has been be-

Negro Is Sentenced To Hang for Rape

ANNAPOLIS, Md., May 22 (AP)—A three-judge Anne Arundel County Circuit Court today convicted Charles William Ross, 20, of rape and sentenced him to hang. It acquitted his 21-year-old brother, Walter, of the same charge.

Presiding Judge James Boylan, in passing sentence upon Charles, said, "You have taken part in one of the most atrocious crimes in the history of Maryland . . . Your guilt is established beyond any reasonable doubt and the court has but one course to follow."

The accused took the sentence without any visible sign of emotion as his mother, Ida Washington, broke into hysterical weeping outside the crowded court room.

The Ross brothers were two of four Huntsville negro youths accused of raping a 19-year-old Seat Pleasant girl March 17. Raymond Washington, 15, and Willie Taylor, 16, were tried in Prince George's county and sentenced to hang.

Russell Morris, Washington, attorney for the brothers, said he would appeal Charles's case.

As Charles was led away, Walter sat in an antechamber of the sheriff's office, shaking his head and muttering to himself. His mother had to be led from the court house.

Official of DAR Blames Rep. Luce For "Row" in Continental Congress

By JAMES P. HACKETT

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 22 (AP)—A DAR official today blamed Rep. Clare Boothe Luce (R-Conn) for causing a "row" at the society's fifty-fifth Continental Congress over the "white artists only" clause in Constitution hall rental contracts and said if she had not injected herself into the matter it would have been settled quietly.

"Personally, I think its an awkward clause and I think it could be re-worded more diplomatically," Mrs. Grace L. H. Brosseau, Greenwich, Conn., national chairman of the Daughters of the American Revolution resolutions committee told reporters.

The congress has ordered dissolution of a seventeen-woman "committee against racial discrimination in the use of Constitution hall," headed by Mrs. Luce. The committee had sought deletion of the rental contract phrase after the DAR had refused Negro Pianist Hazel Scott permission to use the hall for a concert last fall.

"If Clare Luce had not injected herself into this, it would have been settled long ago," Mrs. Brosseau said. "The board would have acted quietly on it, if it had come from a veteran member, but the national board is not going to be dictated to by a woman who has not even attended a DAR meeting."

Mrs. Brosseau said "we have had rows in the DAR before, but this isn't a racial discrimination issue—it's a matter of DAR policy."

Mrs. Julius Y. Talmadge, Athens, Ga., president general of the DAR, told reporters "this matter has been

End of Subsidies Next May Is Voted By Senate Group

WASHINGTON, May 22 (AP) — The Senate Banking committee voted, 14 to 2, today to end all government subsidy payments May 1, 1947 and hold them to $1,100,000,000 in the meantime.

The subsidies are paid to hold down costs to consumers or to spur production of needed articles.

The committee also voted, 10 to 8, to abolish OPA's much-criticized maximum average price regulation—"MAP"—which required manufacturers to continue production of the same ratio of low-priced clothing as before the war.

The subsidy provision was written into the price control extension bill at an afternoon session. Earlier in the day, Sen. Capehart (R-Ind) had lost, 11 to 7, his motion to abolish all food subsidies next July 1.

The compromise subsidy amendment, offered by Sen. McFarland (D-Ariz), provides approximately $900,000,000 for food subsidies and $200,000,000 for subsidy payments on copper, lead, zinc, petroleum and rubber, according to Sen. Taft (R-Ohio).

In contrast to the $1,100,000,000 total voted by the Senate committee, OPA had asked $2,051,000,000 in subsidies for the fiscal year beginning next July 1. Of that total, $1,770,000,000 was requested for food subsidies.

The House had voted to scrap all subsidies by the end of this

Lidice's Widows Are Spectators At Frank Hanging

By ALVIN J. STEINKOPF

PRAGUE, May 22. (AP) — Eight thousand spectators, including widows of the men slaughtered at Lidice, watched without pity today as Karl Hermann Frank was hanged in Pankrac prison courtyard for being chiefly responsible for the massacre.

Those of Lidice's widows who were able to come — and widows of some of the 30,000 other Czechs for whose executions Frank was adjudged indirectly responsible — occupied the second row of seats. Ahead of them were only the officials.

Not the slightest gleam of compassion could be seen in that long row of unforgiving eyes as Frank, garbed in a ragged Nazi elite guard uniform, walked quietly between two guards. At his own request he was not shackled.

The ruler of Czechoslovakia under Nazism had to stand under the dangling hangman's noose for eight minutes, in accordance with prison formality, while a digest of the verdict was re-read by Antonin Kozak, judge of the people's court which convicted him yesterday. It found him responsible, among other crimes, for the destruction of Lidice and the murder of its male population.

Frank was informed there was no

Laveck Urges O'Conor, Radcliffe To Withdraw Their Candidacies

BALTIMORE, May 22 (AP) —John E. Laveck, candidate for the Democratic nomination for United States Senator, called today upon both Gov. O'Conor and Sen. Radcliffe to withdraw their candidacies, so that "Maryland may yet send a senator to Washington that will be an honor to the state and to the nation."

In telegrams to O'Conor and Radcliffe he said that "certainly I shall be more than happy to follow your example and withdraw my candidacy."

Laveck's telegrams did not mention any possible compromise candidate by name, but said he should be "unencumbered by political debts and ambitious to serve his country with honor."

The telegrams to O'Conor and Radcliffe declared:

"You are a candidate for the Senate not ecause you are fitted for that high office by either natural ability or training but because you have the support of a group of infantile and aggressive personalities hungry for patronage and power. Nothing in your record justifies your ambition."

Laveck is a Baltimore businessman making his first bid for political office.

Truman Approves Housing Program

WASHINGTON, May 22 (AP)—The emergency housing program, intended to provide 2,700,000 homes for veterans in two years through private construction, became law today with its approval by President Truman.

Housing Expediter Wilson W. Wyatt, who was given broad controls over building materials prices and exports of scarce lumber, said the legislation throws the program "into high gear."

The measure provides $400,000,000 for subsidies to spur production of bottleneck materials. The president termed this feature the "heart" of the program.

It also increases by $1,000,000,000 the government's authority to insure home loans by private capital, protecting lenders against risks incurred by selling homes on small down payments.

Veterans are given preference by the law in buying or renting houses.

The law continues until the end of 1947 the wartime authority to exercise first claim on scarce building materials for construction of low and medium cost homes. It puts price ceilings on new homes, although Congress turned down proposals to hold resale prices of existing houses.

18 Brotherhoods

The trainmen and engineers had demanded an eighteen per cent increase per man, with a $1.44 per day minimum raise, a proposal which the carriers estimated would average twenty cents a man.

The White House had planned to make public the president's proposal tomorrow, following its acceptance or rejection by the two brotherhoods. The president's press secretary, Charles G. Ross, told reporters that Whitney and Johnston "took the proposition under advisement and will give the president their answer by noon tomorrow."

Johnston's Comment

Johnston's comment upon leaving the White House was:

"The president submitted a proposition to us and we're going to take it under advisement. I can't tell you anymore than that."

In response to a question, Ross said the president had given no assurance to the carriers of any increase in rail rates in connection with his proposal. The railroads have applied to the Interstate Commerce Commission for a twenty-five per cent freight rate boost.

Ross added that the proposal will be made public tomorrow regardless of the action of the two brotherhoods.

The secretary made this announcement to reporters:

"The president submitted a proposal for the settlement of the railroad dispute.

"It was accepted by the carriers, and eighteen of the unions concerned.

"The representatives of two unions, Mr. Whitney and Mr. Johnston, took the proposition under advisement and will give the president their answer tomorrow."

Sitting in the conference with the president were Reconversion Director John W. Snyder, Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach and Dr. John R. Steelman, the president's labor advisor.

Asked before the White House meetings started what the chances were of settlement, Steelman said flatly "I don't know."

Union Makes "Final Offer"

A new union offer was reported, without details, by Whitney, who called it a "final proposition." His comments to a reporter indicated that if the carriers reject it, the strike will be on.

Steelman had said he was working on a compromise between what the brotherhoods seek and the recommendations of an offical fact-finding board which the railroads are willing to grant. The unions' "final proposition" apparently was somewhere between Stelman's proposed compromise and their last demands.

An official whose name could not be used said that the principal mediation efforts were directed at the differences over the working rules, for "that is where the money comes in."

The Office of Defense Transportation, which controls the railroads under the government's seizure order, was ready with emergency measures worked out when the strike became imminent last Saturday but held off in hopes of a settlement. The railroads delayed issuing an order embargoing shipments of perishable food and livestock until the last possible moment.

The ODT arrangements call for movement of the most vital supplies by ship and truck wherever possible. Officials also have discussed the possibility of using military planes to fly the mails.

House Committee

Chairman Sheppard (D-Calif), of the Appropriations subcommittee that wrote the supply bill, asserted that naval heads told the Appropriations committee the fleet provided in what is known as postwar Plan No. 2—the committee plan would be adequate.

"We gave them that and in addition voted more money than they had requested for reserve training and research," he added. "It certainly cannot be said that we have scuttled the fleet."

Moorefield high school's present ten-game winning streak in baseball has boosted the Hardy county school's record to thirty-five victories against six defeats in eight months for three different sports—football, basketball and the baseball.

Coach Johnny Paugh's gridders won nine and lost one and took the Potomac Valley Conference championship. Then his basketeers bagged 16 out of 21 games and won another PVC title.

The Jackets are now engaged in a series of baseball games with Masontown and if they emerge victorious they'll represent nearby West Virginia in the state championship tourney at Charleston, May 30, 31 and June 1.

Best of luck Johnny. You're doing a swell job.

Campers' shortstop grabbed Henry's grounder and stepped on second base for a force out, ending the inning.

Weinbach struck out thirteen Beall batters and caused ten of the Frostburg runners to be stranded on the bases. He boosted his total strikeouts to 47 in 29 innings in which he has yielded only three earned runs.

AHS scored its first run in the second frame when Powers got an infield hit, stole second, took third on Fraddy's error and came home on a passed ball. In the fifth Price walked, pilfered second, went to third on Geis's poor throw and raced home on Perrell's outfield fly.

Powers Hits in Pinch

Coach Radcliffe's boys concluded their scoring with two tallies in the sixth. Weinbach singled and advanced to third on sacrifices by Baker and Bachman. After Radcliffe walked and stole second, Powers batted in two runs with a smoking single to right center.

Powers, of AHS, and Lou Henry, of Beall, garnered two hits each. It was Henry's first loss of the season, he having won his first two starts. The Beall hurler struck out nine.

House Group Rejects Naval Academy Plan To Acquire St. John's

WASHINGTON, May 22 (AP) — The House Naval committee told the United States Naval Academy today to look elsewhere than toward historic St. John's college in Annapolis for room in which to expand.

It approved a resolution declaring that "the national emergency neither justifies nor warrants the proposed acquisition of St. John's college."

The resolution, introduced unexpectedly by Committee Chairman Carl Vinson (D-Ga), was approved 11 to 7 after a heated, but brief, debate.

After a year's formal consideration, the committee thus killed off the projected first step in a $70,000,000 expansion program for the Annapolis institution.

At the suggestion of Rep. Sasscer (D-Md), whose district the academy is located, Vinson then directed the committee clerk to ask the navy for alternative plans for the expansion.

with Mr. Lewis's demands," Krug said. "We can't say how soon this might be. The details will take time to work out."

Krug disclosed to a news conference after six and a half hours of conferences with Lewis and his associates that the union had made known its proposals on each demand, including its general position on wages and hours.

Krug commented that he intended to keep these points confidential until agreement had been reached. He said the demands for a health and welfare fund, improved mine safety and wages and hours were so inter-related that a definite dollars and cents proposal might not be possible at the moment.

As for the increased idleness which set in, principally in Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Alabama and Pennsylvania since government seizure last midnight, Krug said "all we can do at the moment is to urge the workers to go back."

The coal mines administrator told reporters he had made one appeal yesterday after President Truman seized the mines, and another newsreel appeal today.

SFA Makes Survey

"I am quite confident that if the leaders of the miners won't support a movement, however, the government will find it unlikely I can persuade the miners to go back," Krug said.

The Solid Fuels Administration, which disclosed the shutdowns after a survey, made no effort to explain them. Pickets were active in some areas. Idleness of ten mines, in West Virginia, was attributed to a shortage of railroad cars.

Krug and Adm. Morrell met with representatives of the Solid Fuels Administration, bureau of mines, and Federal Social Security Board along with Lewis throughout the day.

Chairman Arthur Altmeyer, of the Social Security Board, provided information about health and welfare funds in general. He said that miners in some areas already are contributing more than four per cent of their pay to health and welfare items.

Pennsylvania production — about one-fourth of the nation's normal output—came almost to a standstill as ten mines closed in the central area and six in the western part. One UMW local president in Pittsburgh, who declined to be quoted by name, commented:

"The last time the mines were taken over, we went back—but it was because of the war, not because of the government."

Geographers Visit County

A group of more than seventy professional geographers from Washington, D. C., visited the Mathias section of Hardy county last Sunday. Most of the geographers are working for the government in making maps and charts.

They visited the point where Lost river disappears under the mountain, the rock formations on the farm of Lafayette Wilkins and other natural phenomena in the Lower Cove section of the county.

The group traveled in two chartered buses and the visit was one of the annual tours made by the group through the various states. Leaders in the tour were Dr. Baker, University of Maryland, Col. Poole, on leave from the University of Virginia and Maj. Goodman, who traveled al lover Southern and Western Europe by jeep as a cartographer.

Virgil Mathias, postmaster at Mathias, was instrumental in getting the group to visit this section and acted as gude on a part of the county trip.

Taft said a provision will be drafted to provide for a gradual reduction in the subsidy payments during the ten-month period from June 30, when the present OPA law would expire, until next May 1.

18 Brotherhoods

The trainmen and engineers had demanded an eighteen per cent increase per man, with a $1.44 per day minimum raise, a proposal which the carriers estimated would average twenty cents a man.

The White House had planned to make public the president's proposal tomorrow, following its acceptance or rejection by the two brotherhoods. The president's press secretary, Charles G. Ross, told reporters that Whitney and Johnston "took the proposition under advisement and will give the president their answer by noon tomorrow."

Johnston's Comment

Johnston's comment upon leaving the White House was:

"The president submitted a proposition to us and we're going to take it under advisement. I can't tell you anymore than that."

In response to a question, Ross said the president had given no assurance to the carriers of any increase in rail rates in connection with his proposal. The railroads have applied to the Interstate Commerce Commission for a twenty-five per cent freight rate boost.

Ross added that the proposal will be made public tomorrow regardless of the action of the two brotherhoods.

The secretary made this announcement to reporters:

"The president submitted a proposal for the settlement of the railroad dispute.

"It was accepted by the carriers, and eighteen of the unions concerned.

"The representatives of two unions, Mr. Whitney and Mr. Johnston, took the proposition under advisement and will give the president their answer tomorrow."

Sitting in the conference with the president were Reconversion Director John W. Snyder, Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach and Dr. John R. Steelman, the president's labor advisor.

Asked before the White House meetings started what the chances were of settlement, Steelman said flatly "I don't know."

Union Makes "Final Offer"

A new union offer was reported, without details, by Whitney, who called it a "final proposition." His comments to a reporter indicated that if the carriers reject it, the strike will be on.

Steelman had said he was working on a compromise between what the brotherhoods seek and the recommendations of an offical fact-finding board which the railroads are willing to grant. The unions' "final proposition" apparently was somewhere between Stelman's proposed compromise and their last demands.

An official whose name could not be used said that the principal mediation efforts were directed at the differences over the working rules, for "that is where the money comes in."

The Office of Defense Transportation, which controls the railroads under the government's seizure order, was ready with emergency measures worked out when the strike became imminent last Saturday but held off in hopes of a settlement. The railroads delayed issuing an order embargoing shipments of perishable food and livestock until the last possible moment.

The ODT arrangements call for movement of the most vital supplies by ship and truck wherever possible. Officials also have discussed the possibility of using military planes to fly the mails.

Chairman Sheppard (D-Calif), of the Appropriations subcommittee that wrote the supply bill, asserted that naval heads told the Appropriations committee the fleet provided in what is known as postwar Plan No. 2—the committee plan would be adequate.

"We gave them that and in addition voted more money than they had requested for reserve training and research," he added. "It certainly cannot be said that we have scuttled the fleet."

Moorefield high school's present ten-game winning streak in baseball has boosted the Hardy county school's record to thirty-five victories against six defeats in eight months for three different sports—football, basketball and the baseball.

Coach Johnny Paugh's gridders won nine and lost one and took the Potomac Valley Conference championship. Then his basketeers bagged 16 out of 21 games and won another PVC title.

The Jackets are now engaged in a series of baseball games with Masontown and if they emerge victorious they'll represent nearby West Virginia in the state championship tourney at Charleston, May 30, 31 and June 1.

Best of luck Johnny. You're doing a swell job.

Weinbach struck out thirteen Beall batters and caused ten of the Frostburg runners to be stranded on the bases. He boosted his total strikeouts to 47 in 29 innings in which he has yielded only three earned runs.

AHS scored its first run in the second frame when Powers got an infield hit, stole second, took third on Fraddy's error and came home on a passed ball. In the fifth Price walked, pilfered second, went to third on Geis's poor throw and raced home on Perrell's outfield fly.

Powers Hits in Pinch

Coach Radcliffe's boys concluded their scoring with two tallies in the sixth. Weinbach singled and advanced to third on sacrifices by Baker and Bachman. After Radcliffe walked and stole second, Powers batted in two runs with a smoking single to right center.

Powers, of AHS, and Lou Henry, of Beall, garnered two hits each. It was Henry's first loss of the season, he having won his first two starts. The Beall hurler struck out nine.

House Group Rejects Naval Academy Plan To Acquire St. John's

WASHINGTON, May 22 (AP) — The House Naval committee told the United States Naval Academy today to look elsewhere than toward historic St. John's college in Annapolis for room in which to expand.

It approved a resolution declaring that "the national emergency neither justifies nor warrants the proposed acquisition of St. John's college."

The resolution, introduced unexpectedly by Committee Chairman Carl Vinson (D-Ga), was approved 11 to 7 after a heated, but brief, debate.

After a year's formal consideration, the committee thus killed off the projected first step in a $70,000,000 expansion program for the Annapolis institution.

At the suggestion of Rep. Sasscer (D-Md), whose district the academy is located, Vinson then directed the committee clerk to ask the navy for alternative plans for the expansion.

with Mr. Lewis's demands," Krug said. "We can't say how soon this might be. The details will take time to work out."

Krug disclosed to a news conference after six and a half hours of conferences with Lewis and his associates that the union had made known its proposals on each demand, including its general position on wages and hours.

Krug commented that he intended to keep these points confidential until agreement had been reached. He said the demands for a health and welfare fund, improved mine safety and wages and hours were so inter-related that a definite dollars and cents proposal might not be possible at the moment.

As for the increased idleness which set in, principally in Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Alabama and Pennsylvania since government seizure last midnight, Krug said "all we can do at the moment is to urge the workers to go back."

The coal mines administrator told reporters he had made one appeal yesterday after President Truman seized the mines, and another newsreel appeal today.

SFA Makes Survey

"I am quite confident that if the leaders of the miners won't support a movement, however, the government will find it unlikely I can persuade the miners to go back," Krug said.

The Solid Fuels Administration, which disclosed the shutdowns after a survey, made no effort to explain them. Pickets were active in some areas. Idleness of ten mines, in West Virginia, was attributed to a shortage of railroad cars.

Krug and Adm. Morrell met with representatives of the Solid Fuels Administration, bureau of mines, and Federal Social Security Board along with Lewis throughout the day.

Chairman Arthur Altmeyer, of the Social Security Board, provided information about health and welfare funds in general. He said that miners in some areas already are contributing more than four per cent of their pay to health and welfare items.

Pennsylvania production — about one-fourth of the nation's normal output—came almost to a standstill as ten mines closed in the central area and six in the western part. One UMW local president in Pittsburgh, who declined to be quoted by name, commented:

"The last time the mines were taken over, we went back—but it was because of the war, not because of the government."

United States Delegate Edward R. Both expressed the belief that it was not a conclusive statement that all troops were out of Iran and that it still left open the question of interference with Iran's affairs.

They visited the point where Lost river disappears under the mountain, the rock formations on the farm of Lafayette Wilkins and other natural phenomena in the Lower Cove section of the county.

The group traveled in two chartered buses and the visit was one of the annual tours made by the group through the various states. Leaders in the tour were Dr. Baker, University of Maryland, Col. Poole, on leave from the University of Virginia and Maj. Goodman, who traveled al lover Southern and Western Europe by jeep as a cartographer.

Virgil Mathias, postmaster at Mathias, was instrumental in getting the group to visit this section and acted as gude on a part of the county trip.

The Erroneous Use Of a Political Term

AS this newspaper has repeatedly lodged protest against the indiscriminate and erroneous use of the derm "democracy" as applied to the form of government under which we live, it is naturally pleased to see the passage of a resolution by the Daughters of the American Revolution likewise protesting against misuse of the term.

Chapters of the organization are urged in the resolution, adoped at its fifty-fifth Continental Congress at Atlantic City, "to undertake a campaign of education that will result in better understanding and appreciation of the kind of government that was established by the framers of the constitution."

Pointing out that erroneous application of the term is "becoming common practice," the resolution states that the constitution provided for a republic with laws to be enacted by representatives of the people while the term "democracy" implied direct action by the people in law-making.

There are several cogent reasons why there should be correction of the error in addition to that of grammatical, political and historical accuracy. One of these is that it is unfairly utilized by leaders and members of the Democratic party as an implication that only it is the true exponent of what is supposed to be connotated by the term when used by a small letter, which, of course, is false.

And when we get down to examination of that, we find that the term "democracy" as thus now purloined for exclusivity by Democrats is deceptive and fantastical by reason of the revolutionary change undergone in the last several years by that party. It is not the Democratic party of yore, which leaned toward democratic principles, that is to say, the principles having to do with genuine representative or popular government. It is still a convertel New Deal party, a party of reaction instead of liberalism because it has abandoned its original conception of individual freedom and supplanted it with collectivism, a centralization of government in the hands of an oligarchy backed by its chosen army of bureaucrats, an all-powerful system of virtual totalitarianism, in too many instances tinged with socialism and even communism.

So, strictly speaking, this nation is not inherently and theoretically a "democracy," the pure form of which was unsuccessfully attempted by Lycurgus in ancient Greece with the people themselves directly in charge. It is a republican or representative system of popular government; and the changes that have come about in recent years make it all the more essential that the distinction be noted, a distinction emphasized by the notatiom of the DAR resolution that it is "the kind of government that was established by the framers of the constitution" which should be implied rather than that under which we now have.

Government Inaction Causes Food Waste

INACTION OF the federal government in bringing about early settlement of labor disputes and preventing strikes not only has held up production and caused hundreds of thousands of workers, not involved in labor difficulties, to be idle, but it is imperilling one of the government's own pet programs—the conservation of food for shipment abroad.

A department of Agriculture official, E. A. Meyer, in a discussion before the Food Advisory committee of the New York Board of Trade, predicted spoilage of "thousands of tons" of vegetables and fruits in the coming months, asserting that food packers throughout the country, attempting to process abundant crops, are without tin plate as a result of the recent steel strike. Despite the department's efforts to allocate tin plate where it is most needed, he said, it has become evident that some crops will not be harvested this year. The steel strike had "cost" the packers 350,000 tons of urgently needed plate used in canning, he declared.

"Never during the war years have we had to say, 'Let that crop go,'" he said. "We're getting close to that point now."

It is a curious fact that while the federal government is vitally interested in the conservation of food for shipment abroad, its representatives and officials have not acted sufficiently decisively to bring about the industrial production necessary in order to save all the crops raised, with near-famine threatened in the United States as a result of aid to Europe, such inaction can only be termed inexcusable.

Americans, cajoled to cut down more and more in their eating, have a right to expect their government to be foresighted in prevention of needless waste.

A Motoring Slogan Making for Safety

THE SLOGAN "TAKE IT EASY" has been adopted by the American Automobile Association to reduce highway fatalities and injuries. Moving to make its membership of nearly two million co-operate, the AAA plans to popularize the attachment of a sticker, "Sure, I'll Take It Easy!" to dashboards, windshields or side windows of cars, in addition to engaging in a wide distribution of leaflets and display posters, emphasizing the same safety theme.

H. H. Brunnier, president of the association, said that the appeal "Take It Easy" can "most assuredly be a modifying element in the bad accident situation that is piling up in this first postwar year." He addressed his appeal to pedestrians as well as motorists.

The AAA may have hit on a good psychological keynote for traffic safety in these disturbed times. "Take It Easy," as applied to the traditional tendency to speed, still is in point, but it has a wider, more pertinent application to the general attitude of drivers. Most of the population these days is living under pressure of widespread economic unrest and uncertainty, aggravated by the disturbed state of the nation.

The human tendency is to be cagy, over-insistent on personal rights and privileges, and reluctant to make concessions to the other fellow for easing the strain of human relations. This attitude makes for impulsive self-assertion in traffic, for pressing a momentary advantage to keep the right of way—and, generally, for keeping the other fellow in his place.

A great deal of emotional energy is dissipated in this manner, with excitability making traffic more irregular and hazardous. In the circumstances, "Take It Easy" seems a timely and practical watchword, for traffic safety control is largely a matter of self-control.

Intelligence Service Cannot Be Neglected

MILITARY INTELLIGENCE is a subject about which there obviously cannot be detailed public discussion. In this matter it doesn't pay to tip one's hand. But it may be said in general that military intelligence is something the nation cannot neglect.

Both Britain and Russia have efficient military intelligence systems. During the war the United States could benefit to a certain extent from the work of the British intelligence system. In peacetime this nation stands on its own. That's why the reorganization work being carried on by Lieut. Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, new army chief of intelligence, is important.

"In my opinion," said Gen. Vandenberg the other day, "the vital importance of effective military intelligence is not generally understood. Our first line of defense is neither the navy nor the air force, but Intelligence.

"If another war comes it will be almost without warning. A sneak attack might end the show. Without a miltiary intelligence organization that is alert, tireless and directed with purpose and strength, another 'Pearl Harbor' might be our last."

Gen. Vandenberg wants to create such an organization by setting up a full-fledged military intelligence school with a strong central direction in Washington with power to maintain contact with intelligence officers after they go out into the field.

"Obviously," Gen. Vandenberg says, "if military intelligence is to be effective we cannot publish our actions for the world to read. The British, whose intelligence work has been superb and a model for us, do not do it. Neither do the Russians."

It should not be difficult to convince government authorities of the necessity for such service and for the provision of the money and trust—and secrecy—to make it possible.

Since eighteen and a half cents seems to be the popular size for increase in wages, our curbstone philosopher says a wide-awake government would start minting a coin of that denomination.

Nothing makes a big league ball club owner more nervous than to hear, emanating from the club house, the soft strains of: "South of the Border—Down Mexico Way."

The Florida Everglades swampland covers 5,000 square miles of that state. How in the world did the press agents ever happen to let that bit of news get out?

Argentines Plan To Put Hoover on Spot On Food Rationing, Drew Pearson Says

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The last time Herbert Hoover went to the Argentine—as president-elect in 1928—he put his foot in his mouth at almost every step he made, beginning by kicking the representative of the powerful newspaper La Nacion off his battleship.

Today it looks as if the Argentines were going to help him repeat. Already they have devised a neat plan to challenge us to restore rationing during Herbert Hoover's trip.

In the first place, the Argentines regard Hoover's trip as primarily a "propaganda" move. Argentine government officials say that not another grain of wheat or another ounce of fats for European famine relief can be squeezed out of their country. Therefore, they argue, the former president's tour must be interpreted as "a gesture, intended to impress South Americans with the humanitarianism of the USA."

So, President Peron is planning to go the United States one better. He will inform Hoover that Argentina is prepared to institute food rationing and urge that the United States do likewise. This suggesion will be given full publicity, with the idea of bringing Argentina out on top no matter what happens.

If the United States government agrees to return to rationing, Peron will get credit (he figures) for having proposed the move. If not, Arbentina will go ahead ayway and "show the Yanquis up."

This scheme has been carefully mapped out and Peron is prepared to put rationing into effect no later than August 1. He was seriously considering the step in any case, for domestic conservation purposes. Now, he will simply make a virtue out of his necessity and time the publicity for Herbert Hoover's trip.

RR Labor Fumes

Truman's able labor adviser, John Steelman, may have forgotten, but he had a significant talk with RR brotherhood leaders some time ago, indicating that the union leaders were irked at Truman quite a while back.

Those who called at the White House were: Davey Robertson, head of the firemen; Elmer Milliman, of the maintenance-of-way men, and Lewis M. Wicklein, vice-president of the sheet metal workers, a brotherhood affiliate. Long-time friends of Truman, they desired an interview with the president but couldn't get it. So they took it out on John Steelman as follows:

"Look, John, we're behind Truman 100 per cent. We like him more than we liked President Roosevelt. Roosevelt was with us and we could depend on him, but Harry Truman is more our kind of a man.

"Well, John, you've got to admit that things aren't going right these days—certainly they're not right from the labor standpoint. Harry should sit down and chat with us—he always used to listen to us.

"If he continues to shut us out, we're going to have to turn elsewhere. You know, we usually support Democrats—only occasionally have we supported an outstandingly friendly Republican.

"But today we don't hear from the policy-makers in the Democratic party. At the same time, however, the Republicans are constantly calling us for advice and conferences. They really try to make us feel we're wanted—and that's something no one here does.

"We've got serious problems and unless we can get an ear we may have to go over to the Republican side of the street."

Steelman threw up his hands in horror.

"Don't ever think of doing that," he said. "It's unfortunate the president hasn't been able to see you—but you know he has been terribly busy with international affairs and hasn't had time to see half the people he'd like to see lately. You just sit tight and I'll arrange an appointment just as soon as possible."

Truman's Old Friends

Brotherhood men say this incident has been forgotten and the boys bear no grudges. Nevertheless, the incident symbolizes the growing coolness toward the Democratic party on the part of some labor groups.

Most people don't know it, but the railroad men had a great deal to do with re-electing Harry Truman as senator when some politicoes considered him on the ropes in 1940. Even some of Harry's best friends, including John Snyder, feared he was a dead duck. But the railroad brotherhoods came to his rescue, collected $1 each from their membership and finally raised a campaign kitty of $16,000.

It was partly their energy which finally sent Harry Truman back to the Senate—and, later, on to the presidency.

Note—Truman paid off in the fall of 1943 when he braved Roosevelt wrath by introducing the so-called "Truman resolution" giving railroad labor an eight-cent-an-hour increase, despite Roosevelt's determination to hold the price-wage line. Roosevelt threatened to veto the resolution if it passed.

Inside the Round House

Real power behind the RR strike is the son of an Iowa preacher, A. F. Whitney. The other strike leader, Alvanley Johnston, of the locomotive engineers, is described by RR men as merely the "whistle following the calliope." . . . He is content to follow, though never quite sure where Whitney will lead him. . . . Johnston was born and educated in Canada, did most of his railroading on the Great Northern. . . . Both Whitney and Johnston are roundly hated by the three other brotherhood leaders. . . . The RR brotherhoods have proposed forty-four rules regulating working conditions, though some seem to have a lot to do with pay. These rules are in addition to the demanded twenty-cent pay increase. . . . Here are some of the rules: Extra night pay of ten cents an hour for working between 6:30 p. m. and 6:30 a. m. . . . Time and a half for Sundays and holidays. . . . Stop-over pay for travelling employes after twelve hours. . . . Changes in overtime pay rules for yard service employes. . . . Brotherhoods are by no means together on what they want. They broke apart at Chicago mediation councils early this year when Whitney's trainmen and Johnston's engineers refused arbitration. The switchmen, firemen and conductors, on the other hand, agreed to have their wage dispute (not the rules dispute) go before an arbitration board. . . . The sixteen-cents-an-hour increase awarded by the board wasn't received with joy, however, by any of them.

Besides the five "operating" brotherhoods which run the trains, there are fifteen non-operating brotherhoods who don't run trains and who also demand pay increases of fourteen cents above the sixteen cents already awarded. A strike vote shows they mean business. . . Some Washington observers are wondering if the upshot of all this won't mean government ownership of the rails. Pushed between airplanes and motor trucks, the RRs can't increase their costs too much and stay in business.

Rationing of Food Is Not Likely Now, Mark Sullivan Says

By MARK SULLIVAN

Suggestions about resuming food rationing, advocacy of it, predictions of it, are in the air. Actually there is no present likelihood of it.

Quite the contrary, the official body dealing with the present worldwide famine, the President's Famine Emergency Committee, at its first meeting in early March, decided to use other methods. In that decision, President Truman participated. So did Secretary of Agriculture Anderson, who has the official status of United States food administrator. There is no official thought of changing.

Reasons Still Strong

The reasons that were strong against the rationing method in early March are strong now. One reason was the time that would be consumed in reestablishing some 7,000 to 8,000 rationing boards throughout the country, and printing and distributing some 130 million ration cards. Besides, the one form of food that is basic in meeting the present famine is bread. And the rationing of bread would be more intricate than the rationing of other forms of food which we practiced during the war.

European countries in which bread has been rationed, faced the problem of setting up five separate categories of persons, each allowed a different quantity of bread—adults engaged in heavy physical work, those engaged in lighter work, women, adolescents, children.

Other Methods Chosen

Rejecting the rationing of bread, it was impracticable and unnecessary, the president's Famine committee adopted other methods, including an appeal to the people for voluntary reduction of their consumption of wheat bread. The voluntary appeal is working well, as any such appeal to the American people always has.

The continued talk of rationing bread, and food that was never before rationed in America, suggests something that has taken place during a period beginning even before the war. It is advocacy and practice of, accompanied by growth of tolerance for, regulation of the individual by government.

A little over a year ago there was prolonged debate in the Senate over a wartime measure giving the government power to draft workers, allocate them, and require them to work in designated industries and plants. Though this would have been useful for prosecuting the war, it never passed the Senate. Much of the opposition was based on an apprehension, that if such control over workers were set up in wartime, it might be continued into peace time. There was an apprehension that it would be as Democratic Senator Joseph C. O'Mahoney of Wyoming put it, a step "toward complete totalitarian and authoritarian government" in America.

Perpetuation Feared

In the debate, a conspicuous and significant figure was Senator Wayne Morse, of Oregon. Mr. Morse, though a Republican, had been in the Roosevelt administration, a member of the War Labor Board. From his experience he had come to apprehend what he described as "arbitrary control over the people by the legislative branch of government." Specifically he apprehended that this might come about in part through making the people tolerant of it.

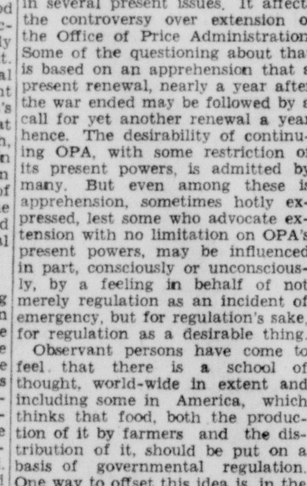

"Oh, yes, I know there is a termination date in the [manpower draft] bill. We have had termination dates before," he said. "It is the old practice again of conditioning people, getting them to think and act in a certain way, and then hoping that once their behavior pattern is repeated over and over again, they will not object when, under the guise of a new emergency, an attempt is made to to extend the principles of this type of bill. That is why I say that if we are going to make a fight for the preservation of freedom...and fight against the attempt to regiment the economy of this country, the time to make that fight is now and on this bill."

Individual Liberty a Factor

The feeling of need to be on guard to preserve individual liberty, figures in several present issues. It affects the controversy over extension of the Office of Price Administration. Some of the questioning about that is based on an apprehension that a present renewal, nearly a year after the war ended may be followed by a call for yet another renewal a year hence. The desirability of continuing OPA, with some restriction of its present powers, is admitted by many. But even among these is apprehension, sometimes hotly expressed, lest some who advocate extension with no limitation on OPA's present powers, may be influenced in part, consciously or unconsciously, by a feeling in behalf of not merely regulation as an incident of emergency, but for regulation's sake, for regulation as a desirable thing.

Observant persons have come to feel that there is a school of thought, world-wide in extent and including some in America, which thinks that food, both the production of it by farmers and the distribution of it, should be put on a basis of governmental regulation. One way to offset this idea is, in the present emergency, to achieve relief of famine by the voluntary reduction of bread consumption by individuals. Actually, this is being done on a scale and with a spirit which encourages faith, not merely for success in relieving famine, but in survival of the American ideal."

CHALLENGES BYRD

TWENTY-FOUR YEARS have passed since any United States Senator from Virginia has been opposed in the primaries. But Martin A. Hutchinson (above), a Richmond attorney and former secretary of the commonwealth, now challenges Sen. Harry F. Byrd for the nomination. It is reported the Democratic organization is behind Byrd.

Mine Seizure Is Not a Solution, Lawrence Says

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, May 22—Seizure of the coal mines and the railroads doesn't solve labor disputes. Some other method to persuade both labor and management to agree will have to be devised.

One school of thought says it will not be accomplished by legislation. Another school says legislation is the only way.

Actually the so-called pro-labor group in Congress and the so-called anti-labor members are not talking about the same thing. Neither side wants to paralyze the nation's economy but each side is perfectly willing to use existing law and existing governmental influence to accomplish its ends.

Thus the same group of labor leaders who argue that legislation is of no avail in settling labor disputes overlook entirely the preamble and provisions of the Wagner Labor Relations law without which organized labor could not possibly have increased its membership or collected millions of dollars in dues and initiation fees.

What the pro-labor group is right in saying is that no man should be required to work against his will. That's a constitutional guarantee. But the constitution doesn't give any man or group of men the right to force fellow workers into a union or to keep them from working.

Critical Period at Hand

It is the absence of law that is rapidly driving the American economic system into chaos. It is the desire for special privilege and immunity from legal prosecution for injuring the public interest which occasions such a vehement effort today to prevent Congress from enacting even the mildest of labor-regulation laws.

America is passing through a critical period. Some labor union leaders are as blind to what is happening as the prohibition leaders were during the decade of lawlessness that followed the enactment of the Eighteenth amendment. The chances for compromise were numerous then as they are today. But when a group has a powerful lobby and thinks it controls Congress, it is likely to reject compromise and learn only when reaction sets in that it has lost the battle.

Today the American people are not yet aroused to the dangers that face them from strikes and labor disputes. The Senate is showing some signs of waking up to the need for legislation, but it may be doubted whether the public will really insist on action. The letters and telegrams to Congress thus far are relatively small in quantity. The people evidently want to be punished further by more and more disputes and more and more economic frustration. Congress never acts as a rule unless it is sure the people want action.

Complacency Now in Question

The employers are vocal and insistent, of course, but are the people as a whole interested? Do the rank and file of workers themselves want to continue in the strait jacket in which so many of them have been placed by closed shops and union bosses? Apparently as long as wage increases were being given the tide of union prestige ran high with the members. But when prices rise and production is stymied and the workers feel the pinch of inflation, will they be as complacent about their own leadership as they are today?

For the main cause of inflation is the lack of controls of wages as well as prices. The theory that more wages can be paid for less and less hours and less and less production is one that must sooner or later collapse, just as the theory in 1929 that stocks could keep on climbing and never be tumbled down to real values had to be disproved.

Congress has an opportunity to restore law and order in the American economic system. Illegal picketing, violence, coercion and intimidation of the workers and the misuse of the strike power by leaders are all the outgrowth of the failure of Congress to amend in a single particular the Wagner act passed in 1935 — the law that was to reduce the number of strikes and give labor its most useful device for the improvement of its wages and working conditions.

Management Goaded

Management has been goaded to more and more resistance to union demands because the scales have not been held even. A law that makes mediation imperative and puts the public interest above the right of any organized group to interrupt transportation or to deprive the nation of needed materials is essential. But it cannot be a one-sided law that puts obligations on unions, without putting equal responsibility on managers.

In the end, a government arbitration tribunal to prescribe settlements in certain industries necessary to health and public safety will have to be provided and it will be a sad day when the present system of voluntarism, which has been abused by organized groups, breaks down altogether. Legislation ought not to be necessary but unfortunately it has become necessary.

A Treasury Of Information

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

My friend, George Stimpson, one of the most beloved human beings it has been my fortune to know, has rung the bell again. He has just had published "A Book About A Thousand Things." This is a wonderful companion to his interesting and instructive book—"A Book About The Bible."

In this new book Mr. Stimpson has accumulated odd and fascinating information about a thousand things that should be welcomed by everyone who wants to know what few know. For example, here are a few of the things he asks and answers: Do you know what is meant by the phrase "eating humble pie?" How did the word "hello" originate? Does the centre of a wheel turn? What highwayman became Chief Justice of England? Why are Irishmen called paddies? Why are submarines called U-boats-How did "red tape" originate? Did Harvard men found Yale? And so on, for 513 pages. This is a book that should be a wonderful one to pick up in odd moments. It bubbles with information that will add intellectual height to the best informed.

Mr. Stimpson has devoted over twenty years to the preparation of this book. It should be in every college and public library—and in millions of homes. There isn't a dull paragraph in the entire volume, and it is made up of brief paragraphs. It's a regular library in miniature.

This book was written by the author to satisfy his own curiosity. Thousands of sources were consulted—books, newspapers, magazines, old files, and a number of libraries. Boswell once quoted Dr. Johnson as saying: "The greatest part of a writer's time is spent in reading, in order to write. A man will turn over half a library to make one book." That's what George Stimpson has done. And he has done us all a big turn!

From his earliest youth George Stimpson wanted to know things. He was forever asking questions. Brought up on a Western farm, where books were few and far between, his curiosity was whetted, so that when the opportunity came for gaining the information for which his hungry mind craved, he didn't miss a trick. Moving to Washington, D. C. many years ago, and devoting himself to newspaper work, he took every odd moment to hunt up the things he wanted to know. This new book is the result—and it is a rare achievement.

Costing no more than a de luxe dinner these days, "A Book About A Thousand Things" will give nurishment to the mind for a lifetime!

I took one of those conducted tours of the Hollywood stars' homes the other day. Of course, you might think it funny for a man of my position to take a conducted tour of the stars' homes . . . . but how else would I ever get to see the front doors?

The driver made only one mistake. We were driving along and he said, "On the left is Edward Arnold's house . . . . notice the big bay window . . . oops, pardon me . . . that was Edward Arnold, himself!"

We never had any engine trouble . . . Whenever the engine started to ping, we'd drive past Hedy Lamarr's house again and let it purr.

W. C. Fields made a special ruling . . . before he can pass his house, the driver has to stop the bus and let the water out of the radiator.

When the tour was almost over I said to the driver, "Don't you think the folks would like to see Bob Hope's house?" He said, "It won't work . . . I recognized you when you got on . . . you'll have to walk home!"

The Erroneous Use Of a Political Term

AS this newspaper has repeatedly lodged protest against the indiscriminate and erroneous use of the derm "democracy" as applied to the form of government under which we live, it is naturally pleased to see the passage of a resolution by the Daughters of the American Revolution likewise protesting against misuse of the term.

Chapters of the organization are urged in the resolution, adoped at its fifty-fifth Continental Congress at Atlantic City, "to undertake a campaign of education that will result in better understanding and appreciation of the kind of government that was established by the framers of the constitution."

Pointing out that erroneous application of the term is "becoming common practice," the resolution states that the constitution provided for a republic with laws to be enacted by representatives of the people while the term "democracy" implied direct action by the people in law-making.

There are several cogent reasons why there should be correction of the error in addition to that of grammatical, political and historical accuracy. One of these is that it is unfairly utilized by leaders and members of the Democratic party as an implication that only it is the true exponent of what is supposed to be connotated by the term when used by a small letter, which, of course, is false.

And when we get down to examination of that, we find that the term "democracy" as thus now purloined for exclusivity by Democrats is deceptive and fantastical by reason of the revolutionary change undergone in the last several years by that party. It is not the Democratic party of yore, which leaned toward democratic principles, that is to say, the principles having to do with genuine representative or popular government. It is still a convertel New Deal party, a party of reaction instead of liberalism because it has abandoned its original conception of individual freedom and supplanted it with collectivism, a centralization of government in the hands of an oligarchy backed by its chosen army of bureaucrats, an all-powerful system of virtual totalitarianism, in too many instances tinged with socialism and even communism.

So, strictly speaking, this nation is not inherently and theoretically a "democracy," the pure form of which was unsuccessfully attempted by Lycurgus in ancient Greece with the people themselves directly in charge. It is a republican or representative system of popular government; and the changes that have come about in recent years make it all the more essential that the distinction be noted, a distinction emphasized by the notation of the DAR resolution that it is "the kind of government that was established by the framers of the constitution" which should be implied rather than that under which we now have.

Government Inaction Causes Food Waste

INACTION OF the federal government in bringing about early settlement of labor disputes and preventing strikes not only has held up production and caused hundreds of thousands of workers, not involved in labor difficulties, to be idle, but it is imperilling one of the government's own pet programs—the conservation of food for shipment abroad.

A department of Agriculture official, E. A. Meyer, in a discussion before the Food Advisory committee of the New York Board of Trade, predicted spoilage of "thousands of tons" of vegetables and fruits in the coming months, asserting that food packers throughout the country, attempting to process abundant crops, are without tin plate as a result of the recent steel strike. Despite the department's efforts to allocate tin plate where it is most needed, he said, it has become evident that some crops will not be harvested this year. The steel strike had "cost" the packers 350,000 tons of urgently needed plate used in canning, he declared.

"Never during the war years have we had to say, 'Let that crop go,'" he said. "We're getting close to that point now."

It is a curious fact that while the federal government is vitally interested in the conservation of food for shipment abroad, its representatives and officials have not acted sufficiently decisively to bring about the industrial production necessary in order to save all the crops raised, with near-famine threatened in the United States as a result of aid to Europe, such inaction can only be termed inexcusable.

Americans, cajoled to cut down more and more in their eating, have a right to expect their government to be foresighted in prevention of needless waste.

A Motoring Slogan Making for Safety

THE SLOGAN "TAKE IT EASY" has been adopted by the American Automobile Association to reduce highway fatalities and injuries. Moving to make its membership of nearly two million co-operate, the AAA plans to popularize the attachment of a sticker, "Sure, I'll Take It Easy!" to dashboards, windshields or side windows of cars, in addition to engaging in a wide distribution of leaflets and display posters, emphasizing the same safety theme.

H. H. Brunnier, president of the association, said that the appeal "Take It Easy" can "most assuredly be a modifying element in the bad accident situation that is piling up in this first postwar year." He addressed his appeal to pedestrians as well as motorists.

The AAA may have hit on a good psychological keynote for traffic safety in these disturbed times. "Take It Easy," as applied to the traditional tendency to speed, still is in point, but it has a wider, more pertinent application to the general attitude of drivers. Most of the population these days is living under pressure of widespread economic unrest and uncertainty, aggravated by the disturbed state of the nation.

The human tendency is to be cagy, over-insistent on personal rights and privileges, and reluctant to make concessions to the other fellow for easing the strain of human relations. This attitude makes for impulsive self-assertion in traffic, for pressing a momentary advantage to keep the right of way—and, generally, for keeping the other fellow in his place.

A great deal of emotional energy is dissipated in this manner, with excitability making traffic more irregular and hazardous. In the circumstances, "Take It Easy" seems a timely and practical watchword, for traffic safety control is largely a matter of self-control.

Intelligence Service Cannot Be Neglected

MILITARY INTELLIGENCE is a subject about which there obviously cannot be detailed public discussion. In this matter it doesn't pay to tip one's hand. But it may be said in general that military intelligence is something the nation cannot neglect.

Both Britain and Russia have efficient military intelligence systems. During the war the United States could benefit to a certain extent from the work of the British intelligence system. In peacetime this nation stands on its own. That's why the reorganization work being carried on by Lieut. Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, new army chief of intelligence, is important.

"In my opinion," said Gen. Vandenberg the other day, "the vital importance of effective military intelligence is not generally understood. Our first line of defense is neither the navy nor the air force, but Intelligence.

"If another war comes it will be almost without warning. A sneak attack might end the show. Without a military intelligence organization that is alert, tireless and directed with purpose and strength, another 'Pearl Harbor' might be our last."

Gen. Vandenberg wants to create such an organization by setting up a full-fledged military intelligence school with a strong central direction in Washington with power to maintain contact with intelligence officers after they go out into the field.

"Obviously," Gen. Vandenberg says, "if military intelligence is to be effective we cannot publish our actions for the world to read. The British, whose intelligence work has been superb and a model for us, do not do it. Neither do the Russians."

It should not be difficult to convince government authorities of the necessity for such service and for the provision of the money and trust—and secrecy—to make it possible.

Since eighteen and a half cents seems to be the popular size for increase in wages, our curbstone philosopher says a wide-awake government would start minting a coin of that denomination.

Nothing makes a big league ball club owner more nervous than to hear, emanating from the club house, the soft strains of: "South of the Border—Down Mexico Way."

Besides, the one form of food that is basic in meeting the present famine is bread. And the rationing of bread would be more intricate than the rationing of other forms of food which we practiced during the war.

European countries in which bread has been rationed, faced the problem of setting up five separate categories of persons, each allowed a different quantity of bread—adults engaged in heavy physical work, those engaged in lighter work, women, adolescents, children.

Other Methods Chosen

Rejecting the rationing of bread, it was impracticable and unnecessary, the president's Famine committee adopted other methods, including an appeal to the people for voluntary reduction of their consumption of wheat bread. The voluntary appeal is working well, as any such appeal to the American people always has.

The continued talk of rationing bread, and food that was never before rationed in America, suggests something that has taken place during a period beginning even before the war. It is advocacy and practice of, accompanied by growth of tolerance for, regulation of the individual by government.

A little over a year ago there was prolonged debate in the Senate over a wartime measure giving the government power to draft workers, allocate them, and require them to work in designated industries and plants. Though this would have been useful for prosecuting the war, it never passed the Senate. Much of the opposition was based on an apprehension, that if such control over workers were set up in wartime, it might be continued into peace time. There was an apprehension that it would be as

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Argentines Plan To Put Hoover on Spot On Food Rationing, Drew Pearson Says

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The last time Herbert Hoover went to the Argentine—as president-elect in 1928—he put his foot in his mouth at almost every step he made, beginning by kicking the representative of the powerful newspaper La Nacion off his battleship.

Today it looks as if the Argentines were going to help him repeat. Already they have devised a neat plan to challenge us to restore rationing during Herbert Hoover's trip.

In the first place, the Argentines regard Hoover's trip as primarily a "propaganda" move. Argentine government officials say that not another grain of wheat or another ounce of fats for European famine relief can be squeezed out of their country. Therefore, they argue, the former president's tour must be interpreted as "a gesture, intended to impress South Americans with the humanitarianism of the USA."

So, President Peron is planning to go the United States one better. He will inform Hoover that Argentina is prepared to institute food rationing and urge that the United States do likewise. This suggesion will be given full publicity, with the idea of bringing Argentina out on top no matter what happens.

If the United States government agrees to return to rationing, Peron will get credit (he figures) for having proposed the move. If not, Arbentina will go ahead ayway and "show the Yanquis up."

This scheme has been carefully mapped out and Peron is prepared to put rationing into effect no later than August 1. He was seriously considering the step in any case, for domestic conservation purposes. Now, he will simply make a virtue out of his necessity and time the publicity for Herbert Hoover's trip.

RR Labor Fumes

Truman's able labor adviser, John Steelman, may have forgotten, but he had a significant talk with RR brotherhood leaders some time ago, indicating that the union leaders were irked at Truman quite a while back.

Those who called at the White House were: Dave Robertson, head of the firemen; Elmer Milliman, of the maintenance-of-way men, and Lewis M. Wicklein, vice-president of the sheet metal workers, a brotherhood affiliate. Long-time friends of Truman, they desired an interview with the president but couldn't get it. So they took it out on John Steelman as follows:

"Look, John, we're behind Truman 100 per cent. We like him more than we liked President Roosevelt. Roosevelt was with us and we could depend on him, but Harry Truman is more our kind of a man.

"Well, John, you've got to admit that things aren't going right these days—certainly they're not right from the labor standpoint. Harry should sit down and chat with us—he always used to listen to us.

"If he continues to shut us out, we're going to have to turn elsewhere. You know, we usually support Democrats—only occasionally have we supported an outstandingly friendly Republican.

"But today we don't hear from the policy-makers in the Democratic party. At the same time, however, the Republicans are constantly calling us for advice and conferences. They really try to make us feel we're wanted—and that's something no one here does.

"We've got serious problems and unless we can get an ear we may have to go over to the Republican side of the street."

Steelman threw up his hands in horror.

"Don't ever think of doing that," he said. "It's unfortunate the president hasn't been able to see you—but you know he has been terribly busy with international affairs and hasn't had time to see half the people he'd like to see lately. You just sit tight and I'll arrange an appointment just as soon as possible."

Truman's Old Friends

Brotherhood men say this incident has been forgotten and the boys bear no grudges. Nevertheless, the incident symbolizes the growing coolness toward the Democratic party on the part of some labor groups.

Most people don't know it, but the railroad men had a great deal to do with re-electing Harry Truman as senator when some politicoes considered him on the ropes in 1940. Even some of Harry's best friends, including John Snyder, feared he was a dead duck. But the railroad brotherhoods came to his rescue, collected $1 each from their membership and finally raised a campaign kitty of $16,000.

It was partly their energy which finally sent Harry Truman back to the Senate—and, later, on to the presidency.

Note—Truman paid off in the fall of 1943 when he braved Roosevelt wrath by introducing the so-called "Truman resolution" giving railroad labor an eight-cent-an-hour increase, despite Roosevelt's determination to hold the price-wage line. Roosevelt threatened to veto the resolution if it passed.

Inside the Round House

Real power behind the RR strike is the son of an Iowa preacher, A. F. Whitney. The other strike leader, Alvanley Johnston, of the locomotive engineers, is described by RR men as merely the "whistle following the calliope." . . . He is content to follow, though never quite sure where Whitney will lead him. . . . Johnston was born and educated in Canada, did most of his railroading on the Great Northern. . . . Both Whitney and Johnston are roundly hated by the three other brotherhood leaders. . . . The RR brotherhoods have proposed forty-four rules regulating working conditions, though some seem to have a lot to do with pay. These rules are in addition to the demanded twenty-cent pay increase. . . . Here are some of the rules: Extra night pay of ten cents an hour for working between 6:30 p. m. and 6:30 a. m. . . . Time and a half for Sundays and holidays. . . . Stop-over pay for travelling employes after twelve hours. . . . Changes in overtime pay rules for yard service employes. . . . Brotherhoods are by no means together on what they want. They broke apart at Chicago mediation councils early this year when Whitney's trainmen and Johnston's engineers refused arbitration. The switchmen, firemen and conductors, on the other hand, agreed to have their wage dispute (not the rules dispute) go before an arbitration board. . . . The sixteen-cents-an-hour increase awarded by the board wasn't received with joy, however, by any of them.

Besides the five "operating" brotherhoods which run the trains, there are fifteen non-operating brotherhoods who don't run trains and who also demand pay increases of fourteen cents above the sixteen cents already awarded. A strike vote shows they mean business. . . Some Washington observers are wondering if the upshot of all this won't mean government ownership of the rails. Pushed between airplanes and motor trucks, the RRs can't increase their costs too much and stay in business.

CHALLENGES BYRD

TWENTY-FOUR YEARS have passed since any United States Senator from Virginia has been opposed in the primaries. But Martin A. Hutchinson (above), a Richmond attorney and former secretary of the commonwealth, now challenges Sen. Harry F. Byrd for the nomination. It is reported the Democratic organization is behind Byrd.

Mine Seizure Is Not a Solution, Lawrence Says

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, May 22—Seizure of the coal mines and the railroads doesn't solve labor disputes. Some other method to persuade both labor and management to agree will have to be devised.

One school of thought says it will not be accomplished by legislation. Another school says legislation is the only way.

Actually the so-called pro-labor group in Congress and the so-called anti-labor members are not talking about the same thing. Neither side wants to paralyze the nation's economy but each side is perfectly willing to use existing law and existing governmental influence to accomplish its ends.

Thus the same group of labor leaders who argue that legislation is of no avail in settling labor disputes overlook entirely the preamble and provisions of the Wagner Labor Relations law without which organized labor could not possibly have increased its membership or collected millions of dollars in dues and initiation fees.

What the pro-labor group is right in saying is that no man should be required to work against his will. That's a constitutional guarantee. But the constitution doesn't give any man or group of men the right to force fellow workers into a union or to keep them from working.

Critical Period at Hand

It is the absence of law that is rapidly driving the American economic system into chaos. It is the desire for special privilege and immunity from legal prosecution for injuring the public interest which occasions such a vehement effort today to prevent Congress from enacting even the mildest of labor-regulation laws.

America is passing through a critical period. Some labor union leaders are as blind to what is happening as the prohibition leaders were during the decade of lawlessness that followed the enactment of the Eighteenth amendment. The chances for compromise were numerous then as they are today. But when a group has a powerful lobby and thinks it controls Congress, it is likely to reject compromise and learn only when reaction sets in that it has lost the battle.

Today the American people are not yet aroused to the dangers that face them from strikes and labor disputes. The Senate is showing some signs of waking up to the need for legislation, but it may be doubted whether the public will really insist on action. The letters and telegrams to Congress thus far are relatively small in quantity. The people evidently want to be punished further by more and more disputes and more and more economic frustration. Congress never acts as a rule unless it is sure the people want action.

Complacency Now in Question

The employers are vocal and insistent, of course, but are the people as a whole interested? Do the rank and file of workers themselves want to continue in the strait jacket in which so many of them have been placed by closed shops and union bosses? Apparently as long as wage increases were being given the tide of union prestige ran high with the members. But when prices rise and production is stymied and the workers feel the pinch of inflation, will they be as complacent about their own leadership as they are today?

For the main cause of inflation is the lack of controls of wages as well as prices. The theory that more wages can be paid for less and less hours and less and less production is one that must sooner or later collapse, just as the theory in 1929 that stocks could keep on climbing and never be tumbled down to real values had to be disproved.

Congress has an opportunity to restore law and order in the American economic system. Illegal picketing, violence, coercion and intimidation of the workers and the misuse of the strike power by leaders are all the outgrowth of the failure of Congress to amend in a single particular the Wagner act passed in 1935 — the law that was to reduce the number of strikes and give labor its most useful device for the improvement of its wages and working conditions.

Management Goaded

Management has been goaded to more and more resistance to union demands because the scales have not been held even. A law that makes mediation imperative and puts the public interest above the right of any organized group to interrupt transportation or to deprive the nation of needed materials is essential. But it cannot be a one-sided law that puts obligations on unions, without putting equal responsibility on managers.

In the end, a government arbitration tribunal to prescribe settlements in certain industries necessary to health and public safety will have to be provided and it will be a sad day when the present system of voluntarism, which has been abused by organized groups, breaks down altogether. Legislation ought not to be necessary but unfortunately it has become necessary.

A Treasury Of Information

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

My friend, George Stimpson, one of the most beloved human beings it has been my fortune to know, has rung the bell again. He has just had published "A Book About A Thousand Things." This is a wonderful companion to his interesting and instructive book—"A Book About The Bible."

In this new book Mr. Stimpson has accumulated odd and fascinating information about a thousand things that should be welcomed by everyone who wants to know what few know. For example, here are a few of the things he asks and answers: Do you know what is meant by the phrase "eating humble pie?" How did the word "hello" originate? Does the centre of a wheel turn? What highwayman became Chief Justice of England? Why are Irishmen called paddies? Why are submarines called U-boats? How did "red tape" originate? Did Harvard men found Yale? And so on, for 513 pages. This is a book that should be a wonderful one to pick up in odd moments. It bubbles with information that will add intellectual height to the best informed.

Mr. Stimpson has devoted over twenty years to the preparation of this book. It should be in every college and public library—and in millions of homes. There isn't a dull paragraph in the entire volume, and it is made up of brief paragraphs. It's a regular library in miniature.

This book was written by the author to satisfy his own curiosity. Thousands of sources were consulted—books, newspapers, magazines, old files, and a number of libraries. Boswell once quoted Dr. Johnson as saying: "The greatest part of a writer's time is spent in reading, in order to write. A man will turn over half a library to make one book." That's what George Stimpson has done. And he has done us all a big turn!

From his earliest youth George Stimpson wanted to know things. He was forever asking questions. Brought up on a Western farm, where books were few and far between, his curiosity was whetted, so that when the opportunity came for gaining the information for which his hungry mind craved, he didn't miss a trick. Moving to Washington, D. C. many years ago, and devoting himself to newspaper work, he took every odd moment to hunt up the things he wanted to know. This new book is the result—and it is a rare achievement.

Costing no more than a de luxe dinner these days, "A Book About A Thousand Things" will give nurishment to the mind for a lifetime!

It Says Here

By BOB HOPE

I took one of those conducted tours of the Hollywood stars' homes the other day. Of course, you might think it funny for a man of my position to take a conducted tour of the stars' homes . . . but how else would I ever get to see the front doors?

The driver made only one mistake. We were driving along and he said, "On the left is Edward Arnold's house . . . . notice the big bay window . . . oops, pardon me . . . that was Edward Arnold, himself!"

We never had any engine trouble . . . Whenever the engine started to ping, we'd drive past Hedy Lamarr's house again and let it purr.

W. C. Fields made a special ruling . . . before he can pass his house, the driver has to stop the bus and let the water out of the radiator.

When the tour was almost over I said to the driver, "Don't you think the folks would like to see Bob Hope's house?" He said, "It won't work . . . I recognized you when you got on . . . you'll have to walk home!"

Girl Is Certain She Is in Love With Two at Once

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX
Famous Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I am 19 years old and in love with two boys. One I was engaged to for over a year and a half, and the other one I'm going with now. He is 17, and still going to school.

The one I have been engaged to has come back from the army and has asked be to marry him again. He broke our first engagement. The boy I am going with now also wants to marry me. He is very nice to me and makes me happy. He promises me a lot of nice things when we get married. This has been going on for over four weeks. What should I do? I can't marry both of them.

A READER.

And you probably can't marry either of them right now anyway—certainly not the 17-year-old who is still going to school—so I don't think you really need worry about making up your mind right away, do you? Not unless you're thinking seriously of taking up again with the man you used to be engaged to.

But in any event, it's a pretty safe bet that when a girl thinks she's in love with two, and can't choose between them, she isn't in love with one. When you're really in love, you're not uncertain about it. For better or for worse, you're perfectly sure one particular individual is the man for you.

So I think your best plan is just to coast along for awhile without committing yourself one way or the other and see what happens. I think you'll find that before long your problem will solve itself.

She Wants To Tie Him Down

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I am a high school girl who will soon be 18 years old. A year ago I started to go with a boy a year younger than myself. We were very happy; exactly made for each other. As young as we are, we discussed marriage.

Not long ago he asked me to let him go. When I asked him why, he said he wanted to go with the boys and not be tied down to a girl. He said he would be back some day and that all his dates would be with me.

I let him go, but missed him terribly. I've asked him up to the house six or seven times but he always refused. I've tried going out with other boys but I just know there'll never be anyone else. Please advise me how to win him back. I've cried so much and I can't get any school work done.

J. H. S.

Well, you're certainly not going to win him back by keeping after him and crying and letting everything else go. That's the surest thing in the world.

I should say your only chance was to let him see you having fun and being gay. You certainly won't attract him by moping around, but you might if you looked so happy and seemed to have such good times that he'd think he was missing a lot of fun by not being with you.

But you'll have to remember that most boys of 17 are a lot more than a year younger, in thoughts and feelings, than most 18-year-old girls, and it's perfectly normal for him to want to be with the boys rather than spending all his time with one girl. And you won't get anywhere by trying to tie him up to you when he doesn't want to be tied down.

"SUFFERED MISERY FOR YEARS..."

Now Regular, Thanks To Famous Cereal

Given up hope of relieving constipation without taking harsh drugs? Then read this sincere, unsolicited letter:

"I would like to add my praise to KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN. I suffered years of misery until I saw your ad about 5 years ago. Have been using ALL-BRAN regularly and have never had to use a laxative since." Thomas Banon, 3254 Sansom Street, Philadelphia 4, Pa.

You, too, may never need another harsh laxative for constipation due to lack of bulk in the diet, if you will eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN every day, and drink plenty of water. Just try this for ten days. If not completely satisfied, send empty carton to Kellogg Company, Battle Creek, Michigan. You'll get double your money back.

KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN is not a purgative, but a wholesome food made from the vital outer layers of wheat. Provides ever-so-gentle bulk, helpful to normal, easy laxation. Try it as a delicious cereal—and in muffins.

Get ALL-BRAN at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg's of Battle Creek and Omaha.

Divorce Granted Mrs. Clinedinst

A fifty-three-year-old Corriganville woman who charged that her husband "thought more of the bottle than he did of me and the family" has been awarded an absolute divorce in circuit court on her cross bill of complaint against her husband.

The original action was filed by Dorsey V. Clinedinst and in her cross bill Mrs. Susie I. Clinedinst, the wife, charged that her husband once went on a drinking spree for three months" and had threatened her with a gun he kept in the pantry of their home.

Mrs. Clinedinst testified that they separated in 1942 due to her husband's conduct and said his failure to support his family made it necessary for her to take in boarders. The Clinedinsts have seven children, all of legal age except two. The case was docketed by Estel C. Kelley.

Chief Judge William A. Huster awarded an absolute decree to Mrs. Bonnie Jackson, 23, Davis, W. Va., from Carl E. Jackson and gave the petitioner the right to resume her maiden name of Bonnie White. They were married in May, 1941, and separated in November of the same year. She said he failed to provide for her and ran around with other girls.

She was represented by Edward J. Ryan.

The court awarded an absolute decree to Mrs. Marian O. Martz, 33, 21 Virginia avenue, from Homer B. Martz, with the wife given the right to resume her maiden name of Osborne. According to her attorney, Ryan, they were married in 1937 and separated in 1944.

The court awarded an absolute decree to Paul A. Smith, 24, Flintstone, from Mrs. Ruby M. Smith with the defendant given the right to resume her maiden name of Bush. They were married in June, 1944, and separated in November of the same year. He charged his wife left his home and went to live with her parents at Coal Centre, Pa., while he was in the army.

Rubber Workers Adopt New Meeting Schedule

Local 26, United Rubber, Cork, Linoleum and Plastic Workers of America, has adopted a new schedule for meetings, Ralph C. Beard, president, announced yesterday.

The local will meet at 7:30 o'clock on the evening of the first Thursday of the month and in the afternoon at 2:30 o'clock on the third Sunday of each month, the union official said.

The new schedule will allow second and third shift members to attend one meeting a month, Beard said.

Swift Workers Win 16 Cent Wage Boost

A sixteen cent hourly wage increase has been granted by Swift and Company for all employes of the local plant, according to William Krapf, president of Local 322, Meat Cutters Union.

The union official said the wage increase was incorporated in a joint contract between the company and Local 332, Meat Cutters and Local 456, Teamsters Union for all drivers and plant workers of the company here. The wage boost is retroactive to January 26, 1946, and the working agreement will be in effect until May 15.

Local 26, United Rubber, Cork, Linoleum and Plastic Workers of America, has adopted a new schedule for meetings, Ralph C. Beard, president, announced yesterday.

The local will meet at 7:30 o'clock on the evening of the first Thursday of the month and in the afternoon at 2:30 o'clock on the third Sunday of each month, the union official said.

The new schedule will allow second and third shift members to attend one meeting a month, Beard said.

Swift Workers Win 16 Cent Wage Boost

A sixteen cent hourly wage increase has been granted by Swift and Company for all employes of the local plant, according to William Krapf, president of Local 322, Meat Cutters Union.

The union official said the wage increase was incorporated in a joint contract between the company and Local 332, Meat Cutters and Local 458, Teamsters Union for all drivers and plant workers of the company here. The wage boost is retroactive to January 26, 1946, and the working agreement will be in effect until May 15.

Rails, Low-Priced Utilities Lead Third Straight Upturn in Market

By T. E. APPLEGATE

NEW YORK, May 22—(AP)—Rails and low-priced utilities led the third successive upturn in the stock market today, with gains ranging to more than two points predominant at the close.

Optimism over prospects for settlement of labor difficulties before tomorrow's truce expiration lifted most of the carriers, which have climbed 2.2 points in the averages this week.

Disposition of many customers to await results of the government's efforts to assure continued operations in the seized coal mines was credited by some brokers with keeping the market from pushing through its fifteen-year high.

Of 1,009 issues registered 534 gained and 277 declined.

The cheaper utilities stimulated some bidding which lifted volume for the day to 1,590,000 shares, best since May 10 and compared with 1,250,000 Tuesday.

Macy and Company advanced two points to $62 after declaration of an extra dividend. Other gainers, some of which turned to the upside in the last hour, included United States Steel, Youngstown Sheet, General Motors, Chrysler, Montgomery Ward, Deere and Company, Philip Morris, Santa Fe, New York Central, Southern Railway, Eversharp, Armour, Cudahy, Wilson and Company, du Pont, American Power and Light, American Telephone, Public Service of New Jersey, International Nickel and American Woolen.

Mojud Hosiery closed two and three-fourth points lower at $48.75 after disclosure of the proposal for a split of the common shares. Others declining were American Smelting, Union Carbide and Bohn Aluminum.

Improved in the Curb were Casco Products, Burry Biscuit, Hoe and Company 'A', Pressed Metals and United Light and Railways. Turnover of 760,000 shares was the best since April 4 and compared with 540,000 Tuesday.

Demand for rails broadened in late trading in an otherwise narrowly-irregular bond market.

Volume expanded to $4,870,000 from $4,234,000 Tuesday.

Closing ahead as much as two points were Baltimore and Ohio stamped convertibles at 72½.

United States government issues lost a few thirty-seconds of a point in the over-the-counter market in quiet turnover.

By KATHERINE FISHER

MOOREFIELD, May 22—Capon Post No. 2102, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, will join with the Capon Farm Women's Club in observance of Memorial day and a special decoration and ceremony will be held Sunday, May 26. The organizations will meet at the I. O. O. F. Hall in Wardensville at 1:30 Sunday afternoon and march to the cemetery.

Post 2102 named L. J. Doyle and George Hoke, Jr., as delegates to the V. F. W. victory encampment at Parkersburg in June. Doyle, commander of the post, will also attend a service officers' school at Jackson's Mill late this month.

The annual Buddy poppy sale for the benefit of disabled war veterans will be started may 27. Over 1,000 were distributed by John Rudy, chairman of the sale.

Legion Has Meeting

Ray Berg, State Commander of the American Legion, visited the John M. Golladay Post last week at a special meeting of the organization. The annual sockholders meeting was postponed to Thursday night, May 23.

Woodrow Brill, post adjutant, reported nearly 400 members were now on the rolls of the post as a result of the recent membership drive.

A committee from the post was appointed to decorate the graves of veterans at a special service to be held on Decoration day. A district convention will be held in Franklin June 9 and seventeen delegates and seventeen alternates were named to represent the local American Legion post at the convention.

After the business meeting State Commander Berg made a short talk to the members on the work of the Legion in it's efforts to represent the veterans with the legislative bodies. Berg stated that due to the investigation by representatives of the Legion G. I. Loans no longer cost applicants up to $250 in fees to procure a loan.

Circle Elects Officers

Mrs. Howard Hawkins has been elected president of the Lilliana circle of the Wardensville Lutheran Woman's Missionary Society. Other officers elected are Miss Alma Walker, vice president, and Miss Edith Godlove, treasurer.

The Lilliana circle entertained the senior circle at a special meeting held in celebration of the Triennial attainments of the organization at the home of Miss Dorothy Hartle. Members of the Lilliana circle enacted the part of the twelve young women missionaries already under appointment through the triennial objective efforts. Following a devotional service, they were introduced by Mrs. J. T. Frye, leader for the evening, and each brought a greeting from, and lighted a candle in honor of, the missionary whom she represented.

The business and social hour followed. During the former, Mrs. Clifton Jenkins won the prize, a book of Bible games, for forming the most words from the title "Triennial Objective."

Farm Women Meet

At the regular meeting of the Capon Farm Women's Club of Wardensville, the president appointed the following committees to have charge of booths for a festival which will take place early in June.

Mrs. Conrad Mickelson and Mrs. J. T. Frye will have charge of gifts; baked goods and food will be in the hands of Mrs. Doyle, Mrs. C. C. Heishman and Mrs. Wertz; flowers, Mrs. Ivy Heltzle and Mrs. R. C. Hott; homemakers, Mrs. Beall, Mrs. J. V. Warden and Mrs Hazel Rinard; fish pond, Mrs George Walters and Mrs. Hawkins; chances on quilt and cake, Mrs. Cunningham and Mrs. Hilda Frye.

It was announced that the annual Memorial day service would be held Sunday, May 26, at the cemetery.

Thomas Girl Is "White Rose" Of Sigma Yau"

By HELEN COLLETT

PARSONS, May 22 — Miss Jean Rickard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rickard, of Thomas, was chosen and crowned as "White Rose of Sigma Yau" at the annual formal dance of XI chapter of Gima Tau Gamma, national social fraternity at Fairmont State college. The ceremony was held in the ballroom of the Fairmont Elks home.

To be selected the "Rose" is an honor bestowed annually to one girl on the campus. Miss Rickard is the first "Rose" to be crowned in recent years due to the inactivity of the Fairmont chapter. She is a freshman at the college and a member of the Alpha Delta Chi Social Sorority. While in high school she was a member of the National Honor society, and was prominent in all school activities. Prior to entering college she was employed as a secretary with the Chrysler Corporation in Detroit, for several years.

Highlighting the event was the entrance of Miss Rickard who was dressed in a pearl colored silk gown. She wore long white gloves and carried a bouquet of long stemed white roses. When she approached the white throne beneath the suspended fraternity shield, William Ford, president of the fraternity, placed the garland of white roses on her head and crowned her "White Rose of Sigma Tau."

Thomas Girl Elected

Miss Marian Lipscomb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Lipscomb, Thomas, and a first year student of Potomac State college, Keyser, was made a member of the Sigma Phi Omega, national honor society and has been elected as treasurer of the sorority for the coming year. Miss Lipscomb is a graduate of Thomas high school in the class of 1945.

Marriage Is Noted

Mr. and Mrs. Sebastian Gasser, Pierce, announce the marriage of their daughter, Mary Ann, to Arthur J. Chmura, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig Chmura, of Moosup, Conn.

The double ring ceremony was solemnized in the All Hollows Catholic church in Moosup, Saturday, May 11. The church was decorated with baskets of white lilies and the organist played a melody of nuptial music.

The bride wore a gown of white satin and chiffon with fitted basque, dipping in a deep circle in the back. The high neckline of chiffon and chiffon sleeves extended low over the wrists. Her veil of misty illussion, falling fingertipped length from shirred ruff of illusion fitting across the back of the head and studded with tiny seed pearls. She carried a cascade shower of white roses and sweet peas and a white prayer book and a blue rosary.

Miss Ernestine Gasser, sister of the bride as maid of honor, wore a gown of yellow taffeta and mesh, yellow gloves and heart shaped mesh hat. Her bouquet was pink roses and iris. Helen Molodich, of Moosup, and Regina Chmura, of Worchester, Mass., as bridesmaids, wore identical gowns of taffeta with sweetheart necklines and heart shaped hats. Their flowers were bouquets of red roses and iris. Theodore Chmura, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man.

The bride is a graduate of Thomas high school in the class of 1939 and was employed by the Davis Coal and Coke, of Thomas, until she enlisted in the WAVES in 1942. She was stationed at Fort Des Moines, Iowa; Norman, Okla., and Jacksonville, Fla., until her discharge October, 1945. Mr. Chmura served with the United States Navy until his discharge in March, 1946. They will reside at Moosup.

Klimp Rites

Funeral services were held in the St. Thomas Catholic church Monday morning with the Rev. Father Francis A. Spillar officiating for Mrs. Jennie Klimp, 54, who died in an Elkins hospital Friday morning where she had been a patient for the past ten days.

She was born in Austria, June 8, 1891, a daughter of the late Anthony and Frances Rolik Sircel and came to Thomas from that country thirty years ago.

She is survived by her husband, Jack Klimp, of Coketon, and the following children, Louis, at home; Mrs. Rose Lukezic and Andy Klimp and Miss Jennie Klimp, Barberton, O.; Mrs. Mildred Kostantinovich, Akron, O.; Frances, Mary Pauline and Marjorie, of Thomas. The body was then removed to Akron, O., on Monday afternoon for further services and interment.

Rails, Low-Priced Utilities Lead Third Straight Upturn in Market

By T. E. APPLEGATE

NEW YORK, May 22—(AP)—Rails and low-priced utilities led the third successive upturn in the stock market today, with gains ranging to more than two points predominant at the close.

Optimism over prospects for settlement of labor difficulties before tomorrow's truce expiration lifted most of the carriers, which have climbed 2.2 points in the averages this week.

Disposition of many customers to await results of the government's efforts to assure continued operations in the seized coal mines was credited by some brokers with keeping the market from pushing through its fifteen-year high.

Of 1,009 issues registered 534 gained and 277 declined.

The cheaper utilities stimulated some bidding which lifted volume for the day to 1,590,000 shares, best since May 10 and compared with 1,250,000 Tuesday.

Macy and Company advanced two points to $62 after declaration of an extra dividend. Other gainers, some of which turned to the upside in the last hour, included United States Steel, Youngstown Sheet, General Motors, Chrysler, Montgomery Ward, Deere and Company, Philip Morris, Santa Fe, New York Central, Southern Railway, Eversharp, Armour, Cudahy, Wilson and Company, du Pont, American Power and Light, American Telephone, Public Service of New Jersey, International Nickel and American Woolen.

Mojud Hosiery closed two and three-fourth points lower at $48.75 after disclosure of the proposal for a split of the common shares. Others declining were American Smelting, Union Carbide and Bohn Aluminum.

Improved in the Curb were Casco Products, Burry Biscuit, Hoe and Company 'A', Pressed Metals and United Light and Railways. Turnover of 760,000 shares was the best since April 4 and compared with 340,000 Tuesday.

Demand for rails broadened in late trading in an otherwise narrowly-irregular bond market.

Volume expanded to $4,870,000 from $4,234,000 Tuesday.

Closing ahead as much as two points were Baltimore and Ohio stamped convertibles at 72½.

United States government issues lost a few thirty-seconds of a point in the over-the-counter market in quiet turnover.

Memorial Day To Be Observed At Wardensville

By KATHERINE FISHER

MOOREFIELD, May 22—Capon Post No. 2102, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, will join with the Capon Farm Women's Club in observance of Memorial day and a special decoration and ceremony will be held Sunday, May 26. The organizations will meet at the I. O. O. F. Hall in Wardensville at 1:30 Sunday afternoon and march to the cemetery.

Post 2102 named L. J. Doyle and George Hoke, Jr., as delegates to the V. F. W. victory encampment at Parkersburg in June. Doyle, commander of the post, will also attend a service officers' school at Jackson's Mill late this month.

The annual Buddy poppy sale for the benefit of disabled war veterans will be started may 27. Over 1,000 were distributed by John Rudy, chairman of the sale.

Legion Has Meeting

Ray Berg, State Commander of the American Legion, visited the John M. Golladay Post last week at a special meeting of the organization. The annual sockholders meeting was postponed to Thursday night, May 23.

Woodrow Brill, post adjutant, reported nearly 400 members were now on the rolls of the post as a result of the recent membership drive.

A committee from the post was appointed to decorate the graves of veterans at a special service to be held on Decoration day. A district convention will be held in Franklin June 9 and seventeen delegates and seventeen alternates were named to represent the local American Legion post at the convention.

After the business meeting State Commander Berg made a short talk to the members on the work of the Legion in it's efforts to represent the veterans with the legislative bodies. Berg stated that due to the investigation by representatives of the Legion G. I. Loans no longer cost applicants up to $250 in fees to procure a loan.

Circle Elects Officers

Mrs. Howard Hawkins has been elected president of the Lilliana circle of the Wardensville Lutheran Woman's Missionary Society. Other officers elected are Miss Alma Walker, vice president, and Miss Edith Godlove, treasurer.

The Lilliana circle entertained the senior circle at a special meeting held in celebration of the Triennial attainments of the organization at the home of Miss Dorothy Hartle. Members of the Lilliana circle enacted the part of the twelve young women missionaries already under appointment through the triennial objective efforts. Following a devotional service, they were introduced by Mrs. J. T. Frye, leader for the evening, and each brought a greeting from, and lighted a candle in honor of, the missionary whom she represented.

The business and social hour followed. During the former, Mrs. Clifton Jenkins won the prize, a book of Bible games, for forming the most words from the title "Triennial Objective."

Farm Women Meet

At the regular meeting of the Capon Farm Women's Club of Wardensville, the president appointed the following committees to have charge of booths for a festival which will take place early in June.

Mrs. Conrad Mickelson and Mrs. J. T. Frye will have charge of gifts; baked goods and food will be in the hands of Mrs. Doyle, Mrs. C. C. Heishman and Mrs. Wertz; flowers, Mrs. Ivy Heltzle and Mrs. R. C. Hott; homemakers, Mrs. Beall, Mrs. J. V. Warden and Mrs Hazel Rinard; fish pond, Mrs George Walters and Mrs. Hawkins; chances on quilt and cake, Mrs. Cunningham and Mrs. Hilda Frye.

It was announced that the annual Memorial day service would be held Sunday, May 26, at the cemetery.

Thomas Girl Is "White Rose" Of Sigma Yau"

By HELEN COLLETT

PARSONS, May 22 — Miss Jean Rickard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rickard, of Thomas, was chosen and crowned as "White Rose of Sigma Yau" at the annual formal dance of XI chapter of Gima Tau Gamma, national social fraternity at Fairmont State college. The ceremony was held in the ballroom of the Fairmont Elks home.

To be selected the "Rose" is an honor bestowed annually to one girl on the campus. Miss Rickard is the first "Rose" to be crowned in recent years due to the inactivity of the Fairmont chapter. She is a freshman at the college and a member of the Alpha Delta Chi Social Sorority. While in high school she was a member of the National Honor society, and was prominent in all school activities. Prior to entering college she was employed as a secretary with the Chrysler Corporation in Detroit, for several years.

Highlighting the event was the entrance of Miss Rickard who was dressed in a pearl colored silk gown. She wore long white gloves and carried a bouquet of long stemed white roses. When she approached the white throne beneath the suspended fraternity shield, William Ford, president of the fraternity, placed the garland of white roses on her head and crowned her "White Rose of Sigma Tau."

Thomas Girl Elected

Miss Marian Lipscomb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Lipscomb, Thomas, and a first year student of Potomac State college, Keyser, was made a member of the Sigma Phi Omega, national honor society and has been elected as treasurer of the sorority for the coming year. Miss Lipscomb is a graduate of Thomas high school in the class of 1945.

Marriage Is Noted

Mr. and Mrs. Sebastian Gasser, Pierce, announce the marriage of their daughter, Mary Ann, to Arthur J. Chmura, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig Chmura, of Moosup, Conn.

The double ring ceremony was solemnized in the All Hollows Catholic church in Moosup, Saturday, May 11. The church was decorated with baskets of white lilies and the organist played a melody of nuptial music.

The bride wore a gown of white satin and chiffon with fitted basque, dipping in a deep circle in the back. The high neckline of chiffon and chiffon sleeves extended low over the wrists. Her veil of misty illussion, falling fingertipped length from shirred ruff of illusion fitting across the back of the head and studded with tiny seed pearls. She carried a cascade shower of white roses and sweet peas and a white prayer book and a blue rosary.

Miss Ernestine Gasser, sister of the bride as maid of honor, wore a gown of yellow taffeta and mesh, yellow gloves and heart shaped mesh hat. Her bouquet was pink roses and iris. Helen Molodich, of Moosup, and Regina Chmura, of Worchester, Mass., as bridesmaids, wore identical gowns of taffeta with sweetheart necklines and heart shaped hats. Their flowers were bouquets of red roses and iris. Theodore Chmura, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man.

The bride is a graduate of Thomas high school in the class of 1939 and was employed by the Davis Coal and Coke, of Thomas, until she enlisted in the WAVES in 1942. She was stationed at Fort Des Moines, Iowa; Norman, Okla., and Jacksonville, Fla., until her discharge October, 1945. Mr. Chmura served with the United States Navy until his discharge in March, 1946. They will reside at Moosup.

Klimp Rites

Funeral services were held in the St. Thomas Catholic church Monday morning with the Rev. Father Francis A. Spillar officiating for Mrs. Jennie Klimp, 54, who died in an Elkins hospital Friday morning where she had been a patient for the past ten days.

She was born in Austria, June 8, 1891, a daughter of the late Anthony and Frances Rolik Sircel and came to Thomas from that country thirty years ago.

She is survived by her husband, Jack Klimp, of Coketon, and the following children, Louis, at home; Mrs. Rose Lukezic and Andy Klimp and Miss Jennie Klimp, Barberton, O.; Mrs. Mildred Kostantinovich, Akron, O.; Frances, Mary Pauline and Marjorie, of Thomas. The body was then removed to Akron, O., on Monday afternoon for further services and interment.

FORT HILL SENIORS PRESENT THEIR FAREWELL ASSEMBLY

The seniors of Fort Hill high school presented "Going Our Way", an original script prepared by Wanda Parsons, a member of the class, as their farewell assembly program in the school auditorium yesterday afternoon, with Miss Gerardine Pritchard, social adviser, directing the program.

A bit of the serious, a touch of the sad, and a share of the humorous made up "Going Our Way." The pageant opened with a tribute to Fort Hill on its tenth birthday, met the challenge of alumni that the Class of 1946 produce entertainers of high caliber, and ended with a hope that all Fort Hill students gird for peace-time living.

In the cast were Betty May as the "Spirit of Fort Hill"; Harold Bishop, representing the alumni; Ted Beckman, president of the Class of 1946; Wanda Parsons and Phyllis Burley, as historians; Billy Hines, as the Voice; and the senor members of the Fort Hill Verse Speaking Choir, Dorislee Thrasher, Phyllis Burley, Jean Bible, Billy Jean Robosson, Dolores Darsh, Gladys Hendris, Eleanor Pinault, and Virginia Jewell.

Special entertainers were Gloria Snyder, Virginia Sittig, George Keady, Doris Birl, Ann Murray, Robert Campbell, Shirley Turner, Betty Lou Kight, Shirley Burke, McMillan Twigg, Jeannine Moler, Dorislee Thrasher, Betty May, Betty Benson, Wanda Parsons, Virginia Jewell, Nina Lewis, Pauline Walker, Dolores Darsh, Fred Partleton, Jean Bible, Richard White, Robert Brotemarkle, Ronald Blaker, Ted Beckman, Harold Bishop, James Ziler, James Scott, Bill McBride, and Ernest Johnson.

Juniors who will take over duties next year are Don Wimer, Jack Baker, Charles Crawford and Dolores Riggs.

Among the musical numbers in "Going Our Way" were "Cement Mixer", "Stout-Hearted Men", "Smoke Gets In Your Eyes", and "The Bells of St. Mary's."

Concluding the program, Ted Beckman, president of the Class of 1946, presented in the traditional ceremony the Robe of Seniority to Don Wimer, president of the Junior Class. Wimer accepted the Robe and the responsibilities implied and then gave the Robe to Jack Baker, president-elect of the Clas of 1947.

William Hiner and Donald Fisher were responsible for stage work and lighting effects.

Local Man Floods Hagerstown Jail

A 29-year-old man who Hagerstown police said "hails from around Cumberland" and gave his name as Noah W. Anderson, was sentenced to 60 days in Washington county jail on a drunk charge after he flooded the cell block on the fourth floor of City Hall there.

Police said Anderson, arrested late Monday night, stopped the drain of a wash basin and then turned on the spigot. The floor was covered with more than an inch of water when officers entered the cell block two hours later.

Authorities reported that the man will be questioned by FBI agents for failure to have a draft card. Anderson was ordered to "get out of town and stay out" after serving his sentence when arraigned in court.

Local officers said a "Noah W. Anderson, of Maryland avenue," is listed twice on the police docket here.

3,000 Passenger Flights Have Been Taken Here, Chapman Reports

Although a year ago the Cumberland Municipal airport was only a piece of ground with some paved runways, this spring an estimated 3,000 persons have taken passenger hops from the field, according to John A. Chapman, manager for Cumberland Airways, Incorporated, which leases the field from the city.

At least 10,000 persons have visited the B-17 Flying Fortress since it was placed on exhibition here early in April, Chapman said.

A dozen planes in addition to five owned by Cumberland Airways are kept at the field. The fifteen hangars now under construction have been rented already, and the manager said he hopes to erect ten more if materials can be found.

Future plans include night flying, to be started next month, and a GI flying program for ex-servicemen. Nearly 100 applications for the latter have been received, and Chapman said the first class will be composed of between fifty and sixty members. Arrangements are being made to give ground school work at Fort Hill high school.

FORT HILL SENIORS PRESENT THEIR FAREWELL ASSEMBLY

The seniors of Fort Hill high school presented "Going Our Way", an original script prepared by Wanda Parsons, a member of the class, as their farewell assembly program in the school auditorium yesterday afternoon, with Miss Gerardine Pritchard, social adviser, directing the program.

A bit of the serious, a touch of the sad, and a share of the humorous made up "Going Our Way." The pageant opened with a tribute to Fort Hill on its tenth birthday, met the challenge of alumni that the Class of 1946 produce entertainers of high caliber, and ended with a hope that all Fort Hill students gird for peace-time living.

In the cast were Betty May as the "Spirit of Fort Hill"; Harold Bishop, representing the alumni; Ted Beckman, president of the Class of 1946; Wanda Parsons and Phyllis Burley, as historians; Billy Hines, as the Voice; and the senor members of the Fort Hill Verse Speaking Choir, Dorislee Thrasher, Phyllis Burley, Jean Bible, Billy Jean Robosson, Dolores Darsh, Gladys Hendris, Eleanor Pinault, and Virginia Jewell.

Special entertainers were Gloria Snyder, Virginia Sittig, George Keady, Doris Birl, Ann Murray, Robert Campbell, Shirley Turner, Betty Lou Kight, Shirley Burke, McMillan Twigg, Jeannine Moler, Dorislee Thrasher, Betty May, Betty Benson, Wanda Parsons, Virginia Jewell, Nina Lewis, Pauline Walker, Dolores Darsh, Fred Partleton, Jean Bible, Richard White, Robert Brotemarkle, Ronald Blaker, Ted Beckman, Harold Bishop, James Ziler, James Scott, Bill McBride, and Ernest Johnson.

Juniors who will take over duties next year are Don Wimer, Jack Baker, Charles Crawford and Dolores Riggs.

Among the musical numbers in "Going Our Way" were "Cement Mixer", "Stout-Hearted Men", "Smoke Gets In Your Eyes", and "The Bells of St. Mary's."

Concluding the program, Ted Beckman, president of the Class of 1946, presented in the traditional ceremony the Robe of Seniority to Don Wimer, president of the Junior Class. Wimer accepted the Robe and the responsibilities implied and then gave the Robe to Jack Baker, president-elect of the Clas of 1947.

William Hiner and Donald Fisher were responsible for stage work and lighting effects.

3,000 Passenger Flights Have Been Taken Here, Chapman Reports

Although a year ago the Cumberland Municipal airport was only a piece of ground with some paved runways, this spring an estimated 3,000 persons have taken passenger hops from the field, according to John A. Chapman, manager for Cumberland Airways, Incorporated, which leases the field from the city.

At least 10,000 persons have visited the B-17 Flying Fortress since it was placed on exhibition here early in April, Chapman said.

A dozen planes in addition to five owned by Cumberland Airways are kept at the field. The fifteen hangars now under construction have been rented already, and the manager said he hopes to erect ten more if materials can be found.

Future plans include night flying, to be started next month, and a GI flying program for ex-servicemen. Nearly 100 applications for the latter have been received, and Chapman said the first class will be composed of between fifty and sixty members. Arrangements are being made to give ground school work at Fort Hill high school.

Local Man Floods Hagerstown Jail

A 29-year-old man who Hagerstown police said "hails from around Cumberland" and gave his name as Noah W. Anderson, was sentenced to 60 days in Washington county jail on a drunk charge after he flooded the cell block on the fourth floor of City Hall there.

Police said Anderson, arrested late Monday night, stopped the drain of a wash basin and then turned on the spigot. The floor was covered with more than an inch of water when officers entered the cell block two hours later.

Authorities reported that the man will be questioned by FBI agents for failure to have a draft card. Anderson was ordered to "get out of town and stay out" after serving his sentence when arraigned in court.

Local officers said a "Noah W. Anderson, of Maryland avenue," is listed twice on the police docket here.

BE STILL AND KNOW

These are bewildering days. Noisy days that demoralize mind as well as body.

So many new voices shouting to be heard — arguing, contradicting. So many angry voices battering our feeble peace. . . .so many doubting voices undermining our faltering faith. Which voice to choose? Each day we wake more fearful and confused.

Yet something must be done—and soon. We can't escape through indifference or cynicism. We'll rot if we do. Then what?

The old world is wrecked. The old rules are gone. We must make a new order for ourselves. But what—and how? Is there anything to which we can hold in confidence.

I doubt if there's a better answer than the one which came to old King David thousands of years ago. He too faced wild disorder in a world which was even more disturbed and brutal than ours today. Men fought like beasts, gouging, tearing, torturing each other without compassion. Never was the air cleared of the taint of hate and blood.

And King David, despite his wealth and power, had been as wild as the rest in his youth. Even now, in his wise old age, his nature warred within him. He too cried out in dismay, wondering which way to turn, even as you and I. He too heard many voices clamoring — did not know which spoke the truth.

While others slept he sat on the roof of his palace in an agony of doubt. And presently another Voice seemed to speak—a calm, sure Voice that soothed his rioting.

"'Be still!' said that Voice. 'Be still and know that I am God.'"

Only eight words but they have come down through the ages, healing our fears as they did King David's.

Be still! Stop questioning—stop demanding answers—stop whimpering in self pity or jeering in judgment. Go on with your work if need be. Don't desert your responsibilities. But let the battling voices die down, one by one, until your heart is quiet. Then let that greater Voice enter the silence, bringing the answer which can make you whole.

Be still and know that I am God, your father. I have made you and all the things within your world. Through the ages I have experienced all human troubles and found the answers. And there's only one answer—

Be still and know. Be still and learn the truth. Be still and believe that the God who made this world and saved it through all its madness will not desert His children now. Though all else fails, though all else be lost in universal confusion, the truth will yet go on.

Softly, silently the words sank into David's troubled heart. Across the sands a small wind rose and passed. Far in the east a pale light glowed and spread. Above the stained and war torn city hung the morning star. Content in God, the weary old king slept.

Rest, too, my friend. Forget the doubts and fears. God knows the answers—if you will listen when he speaks. He will solve the troubles in His own good time. Just be still—and know.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Thad Phipps and the Garden Party

Thad Phipps' wife finally got him to the Ladies' Flower Club Lawn Festival and Garden Party.

At first Thad was mighty uncomfortable in his Sunday best, making polite conversation with the ladies, nibbling on watercress sandwiches. Until Milly Harztell comes up with a tray of ice-cold beer in frosty glasses.

"I suppose," says Milly slyly, "you'll think beer's a sissy drink." "Sissy drink!" says Thad emphatically. "Just because it's mild and moderate doesn't make it sissy! Beer's a man's drink!"

And then Thad sees that half the ladies there are sipping beer, as well as those who've chosen lemonade and cider, and he mutters: "I reckon it's a ladies' drink, too."

From where I sit, more and more people are realizing, like Thad, that beer doesn't belong to any special group or occasion—it's a wholesome American beverage that belongs wherever folks enjoy good taste and moderation.

Traffic Survey Shows Importance Of Human Element

A survey of motor accidents reported to the Cumberland Police Department since September, 1945, indicates that over eighty per cent of the accidents were due to the human element, Detective Edwin R. Lilya reported yesterday.

The thirty-seven accidents listed in the file at police headquarters include eight fatal accidents and a study of the records shows that most of the mishaps could have been avoided if drivers and pedestrians had been more cautious, he added.

Detective Lilya began yesterday to locate the scene of the accidents on a large map of the city, using colored pin heads for each case.

Most accidents occur, police said, on the widest streets and under the most favorable weather conditions. Motorists, police added, generally drive carefully when streets become slippery or when vision is poor.

Police said experience here follows the national trend of some eighty-two per cent of accidents due to the human element, with fifteen per cent due to poor road engineering and three to five per cent attributed to faulty vehicle mechanism.

The mapping of the accidents here will give authorities an opportunity to locate the chief danger spots and to correct any which can be attribute to faulty engineering.

Detective Lilya added that Cumberland's recent accident record is "not a pretty picture" and called on local motorists to co-operate by eliminating, so far as possible, the "human element" in motor accidents.

2,055 WEST VIRGINIA MINERS STAY HOME

Charleston, W. Va., May 22. (AP)—An estimated 2,055 West Virginia coal miners in four scattered counties were missing from the pits today when American flags were raised over the bituminous properties, signifying that the federal government was in control.

Failing to operate on the first day of the government's seizure of the soft coal operations throughout the nation were two Monongalia county mines, and one each in McDowell, Raleigh and Randolph counties.

Stoppages at the three Northern West Virginia mines were traced by a Solid Fuels Administration official to a "misunderstanding" of the seizure order signed yesterday in Washington by President Truman.

Neither United Mine Workers nor company officials commented on the closings in either the north or south, but Dan Cronin, manager of the SFA office at Fairmont, said he thought the situation "will be cleared up shortly."

Teacher Shortage "Critical"

In discussing the teacher situation in Mineral county, H. L. Idleman, county superintendent, states that the problem of securing competent teachers for 1946-47 is more critical than at any time in the last six years.

The county's allotment for the year just closing of principals and teachers for all schools was 146. Of the teachers employed, twenty-three held only emergency certificates.

During the years 1940 to 1946 Mineral county lost 135 teachers, for reasons listed as follows:

Twenty-four accepted teaching positions in other West Virginia counties; twenty-four accepted teaching positions in other states; eighteen accepted positions in industry or business; thirty-four resigned for personal reasons; twenty-seven entered the armed forces; four retired, and four died.

Idleman states that the situation is indeed serious when a county loses between eighty-five and ninety percent of its teachers in a period of six terms.

Improvements Needed At Eckhart Mine

WASHINGTON, May 22 (AP)—Safer haulage conditions and better ventilation were recommended today for the Eckhart No. 4 mine of the Consolidated Fuel Company, Inc., at Eckhart, Md.

The Allegany county operation, employing 35 men and producing an average of 200 tons of coal daily, was recently reinspected by Federal Inspector P. F. Stevenson.

He suggested improvement of the air distribution facilities, commenting that "only a small part of the total air entering the mine reaches the working sections, and air movement is very sluggish throughout the entire workings."

Viscose Pacts Are Cancelled by Union

NEW YORK, May 22. (AP)—E. M. Schoffstall, publicity director of the Textile Workers of America, (CIO), said today the union had cancelled its contracts with seven plants of the American Viscose Company, effective June 20.

Schoffstall said the cancellation resulted from a dispute in the Meadville plant which involved frozen and rotating shifts. The company rejection of a union program for settling the Meadville dispute, he said, had the effect of halting general wage negotiations which have been in progress several weeks.

Meadville employes have been working frozen shifts since 1943, Schoffstall said. The company posted notice May 5 of a return to rotating shifts and employe objections were raised.

Fred Kraft, industrial relations manager, refused to continue general wage negotiations, Schoffstall said, until the Meadville dispute was settled.

2,055 WEST VIRGINIA MINERS STAY HOME

Charleston, W. Va., May 22. (AP)—An estimated 2,055 West Virginia coal miners in four scattered counties were missing from the pits today when American flags were raised over the bituminous properties, signifying that the federal government was in control.

Failing to operate on the first day of the government's seizure of the soft coal operations throughout the nation were two Monongalia county mines, and one each in McDowell, Raleigh and Randolph counties.

Stoppages at the three Northern West Virginia mines were traced by a Solid Fuels Administration official to a "misunderstanding" of the seizure order signed yesterday in Washington by President Truman.

Neither United Mine Workers nor company officials commented on the closings in either the north or south, but Dan Cronin, manager of the SFA office at Fairmont, said he thought the situation "will be cleared up shortly."

Teacher Shortage "Critical"

In discussing the teacher situation in Mineral county, H. L. Idleman, county superintendent, states that the problem of securing competent teachers for 1946-47 is more critical than at any time in the last six years.

The county's allotment for the year just closing of principals and teachers for all schools was 146. Of the teachers employed, twenty-three held only emergency certificates.

During the years 1940 to 1946 Mineral county lost 135 teachers, for reasons listed as follows:

Twenty-four accepted teaching positions in other West Virginia counties; twenty-four accepted teaching positions in other states; eighteen accepted positions in industry or business; thirty-four resigned for personal reasons; twenty-seven entered the armed forces; four retired, and four died.

Idleman states that the situation is indeed serious when a county loses between eighty-five and ninety percent of its teachers in a period of six terms.

Improvements Needed At Eckhart Mine

WASHINGTON, May 22 (AP)—Safer haulage conditions and better ventilation were recommended today for the Eckhart No. 4 mine of the Consolidated Fuel Company, Inc., at Eckhart, Md.

The Allegany county operation, employing 35 men and producing an average of 200 tons of coal daily, was recently reinspected by Federal Inspector P. F. Stevenson.

He suggested improvement of the air distribution facilities, commenting that "only a small part of the total air entering the mine reaches the working sections, and air movement is very sluggish throughout the entire workings."

New Addition Is Being Constructed To Dorman Mills

By HELEN COLLETT

PARSONS, W. Va., May 22—Franklin Dorman, president of the Dorman Mills announces that construction has started on the addition to the present mill. The addition is as large as the original building erected in 1922 and is the fifth addition to the mill since the Dorman's have operated it. When completed it will have approximately 65,000 square feet of space, which will require additional help in spinners, weavers and other workers. The equipment will be of the most modern kind. The mill during the war was on eighty per cent production for the armed forces in making blankets and army uniform material and won four Army-Navy "Es" on their record.

Viscose Pacts Are Cancelled by Union

NEW YORK, May 22. (AP)—E. M. Schoffstall, publicity director of the Textile Workers of America, (CIO), said today the union had cancelled its contracts with seven plants of the American Viscose Company, effective June 20.

Schoffstall said the cancellation resulted from a dispute in the Meadville plant which involved frozen and rotating shifts. The company rejection of a union program for settling the Meadville dispute, he said, had the effect of halting general wage negotiations which have been in progress several weeks.

Meadville employes have been working frozen shifts since 1943, Schoffstall said. The company posted notice May 5 of a return to rotating shifts and employe objections were raised.

Fred Kraft, industrial relations manager, refused to continue general wage negotiations, Schoffstall said, until the Meadville dispute was settled.

Correct Posture Promotes Health, Doctor Asserts

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN M. D.

Good posture means many things. It promotes beauty, just as the rounded shoulders, hollowed chest and protruding abdomen, so characteristic of poor posture, destroy it. Good posture is also a prerequisite for good function. It poises the body for instant, graceful and efficient action.

Most important of all, it is an adjunct to good health because stooping or slouching is likely to cramp such important internal organs as the heart and lungs. If bad posture is present it, as a rule, is due to weakness of the muscles. This weakness may be brought about by tiredness, by lack of certain things in the diet, by not enough exercise, and by various psychologic disturbances.

Muscle Weakness

When one shoulder is lower than the other it may be due to weakness of the muscle known as the trapezius. However, this same defect of one shoulder being lower than the other may come from a bending of the spine to one side. When the shoulder blades stick out, weakness of the trapezius muscle may also be responsible.

Some persons walk with their chin stuck forward. This may be due to weakness of certain of the muscles in the neck.

It has been thought that bad posture may possibly be due to the fact that the muscles on one side are stronger than on the other. But Dr. Arthur B. Appleton, London, does not believe that this is a fact.

The work a person does may be a factor in producing bad posture. For example, a person who sits all day over his work may walk with his body held forward. The posture may be so bad that it produces disabilities. Sometimes there is pain in the back.

If a person walks with his hips forward, undue weight is thrown on the front part of the foot and will produce pain, calluses, and flat feet. If the pelvis is too far backward there will be backache and a tendency to fatigue.

People Who Sit

If the bad posture continues long enough certain of the muscles may become weakened and shortened. For example, in people who sit at their work the shoulders are too far forward.

Poor posture may have a bad effect on the heart and blood vessels and on the digestive organs. A sagging chest and round shoulders, particularly, may be responsible for interference with these parts of the body. If the muscles of the wall of the abdomen are weak, there is a tendency for the organs within the abdomen to fall out of their normal position. This interferes with digestion and breathing.

To correct poor posture, the important thing is to find the primary source of the disturbance. Then proper measures for correcting the difficulty may be carried out, such as exercise, the wearing of a supporting brace or cast, the wearing of the right clothing, and the correction of poor eyesight.

TODAY'S GAME
Beall at Paw Paw

Sid Weinbach, Allegany high school's clever southpaw, made it four in a row yesterday when he pitched the Campers to a 4 to 0 decision over Beall high school at Frostburg State Teachers' College field.

It marked the second shutout triumph for Weinbach over the Mountain City nine, and yesterday's win gave AHS, defending champions, the undisputed lead in the Tri-State Interscholastic Conference with a record of five wins and one loss, the latter coming at the hands of Hyndman.

Lefty Weathers Storm

Weinbach was in plenty of hot water in yesterday's game but he managed to weather the storm on each occasion to gain the shutout.

In the second after two down, Farrady singled and Crump was hit by a pitched ball, but the AHS lefty killed the threat when he picked Crump off first base. Beall filled the cushions after one away in the fourth, then Weinbach dug himself out of this hole by striking out Farrady and Crump on nine pitches. In the sixth, Beall again loaded the hassocks after two out but Tommy Powers came to the rescue with a diving one-handed stab of Blank's line drive. Jimmie Radcliffe and Powers came through in the clutch in the seventh when the AHS catcher threw out Murray, trying to pilfer third, and the

Boston Wins in Twelfth On Homer by Williams

Ted's Circuit Wallop With One on Base Defeats Cleveland Indians, 7 to 4

CLEVELAND, May 22 (AP) — Outfielder Ted Williams clouted a home run with one man on base today to give the first-place Boston Red Sox a 7 to 4 victory over the Cleveland Indians in a contest that went twelve innings.

The win moved the Bostonians up one full game in the standings, putting them seven games ahead of the second-place New York Yankees.

Williams's homer, breaking a 4-4 tie, gave him a total of 33 runs batted in so far this season. Before his twelfth inning circuit clout, he had gone hitless four out of five times at bat.

Johnny Lazor, starting at right field in place of Dom DiMaggio, who was benched with a pulled leg muscle, earlier sent the game into extra innings with his homer with none on base in the ninth, and was credited with four runs batted in. Box:

YANKS TRIP TIGERS

DETROIT, May 22 (AP) — Overcoming the shock of Hank Greenberg's three-run homer in the first inning, the New York Yankees bounced back to whip the Detroit Tigers 5 to 3 here today with the aid of a wild triple play in the eighth inning.

Everybody in the Yankee infield but Pitcher Jake Wade, who won the game in relief, had a hand in the triple-killing which doused a Tiger rally after Eddie Mayo had walked and moved to third on Jim Outlaw's single.

Dick Wakefield bounced to Nick Etten at first, who threw to the plate and got Mayo in a rundown at third. When George Stirnweiss tagged Mayo, Outlaw, who had turned toward third, and Wakefield legged it for second from opposite directions, arriving simultaneously. Outlaw then tried to get to third and was tagged by Joe Gordon and Wakefield tried to go back to first and was tagged by Phil Rizzuto. Box:

By C. V. BURNS

Jimmy Klosterman, the slim left-hooking middleweight was the most consistent winner during the 1945-46 amateur boxing season in Cumberland.

The tall southpaw socker closed the campaign with five wins in as many starts and his victories were scored over Jim Cecil, Fred Spencer, Pvt. James Brown, Curtis "Red" Portmess, all local boys, and Johnny Mason, of Washington, D. C.

Johnny Esposito, who hung the gloves, after engaging in four matches, and Johnny House, of Cresaptown, turned in records of four and nothing for the season.

Randall "Skeets" Starkey, the Fighting High School Boy" from Wiley Ford, ranked high on the list, his lone setback coming in a Washington, D. C. tourney.

The busiest boxer of the season was "Shoeless" Bobby Porter, who went to the post eight times and dropped six decisions.

The most consistent loser was Melvin "I Paw Down and Go Boom" Washington, who finished on the short end five times in as many starts.

According to the records, a total of ninety-six different local simon pures engaged in bouts staged here by two clubs.

Here's how the boys with two or more bouts fared during the six months' fall and winter campaign:

The eleven-inning pitching duel waged last Sunday at Stitcher field between Bill Stevenson, of Queen City, and Paul Fair, of Midland, was a real treat for the 500 fans who witnessed the thriller in which the Brewers were returned the winners over the up-creek team, 3-2, by virtue of some lusty hitting on the part of Harry Minnicks and Nick Perlozzo.

Fair yielded fifteen hits, Midland collected six off Stevenson, Queen City committed nine of the twelve fielding bobbles but only five runs were scored in the game and three of those were registered in the eleventh inning. It was a low scoring game due to the brilliant pitching of both slabsters in the pinches and the result was that a total of twenty-eight runners perished on the paths — 16 Queen City and 12 Midland players.

While Stevenson pitched eleven complete innings without yielding an earned run, Fair is deserving of special praise for his coolness under fire and the manner in which he pitched himself out of some very ticklish spots.

In the first, fourth and fifth frames Queen City runners occupied third and second bases after two down but were unable to solve the Midland righthander in the pinches. In the fourth Fair used sound judgment in purposely passing Minnicks to fill the bags, then made Winfield smack into a force out at third base.

In the eighth Minnicks again was purposely passed to load the cushions and Fair then put on the brakes by fanning Winfield for the third out.

Prior to passing Minnicks the second time, the Midland board of strategy beckoned John "Lefty" Rogish in from right field for a consultation. Rogish said:

"Put Minnicks on base, that's the play. I'd pass him myself if I were pitching. Let Fair finish the game. He's doing a good job."

Well anyway, it was a pip of a sandlot ball game and it was quite a relief to score that one over the eleven inning route after sitting through a number of poorly played nine-inning marathon affairs on previous Sunday afternoons.

The Speelman Ice Cream Company is deserving of a bouquet for that excellent scoreboard it has erected at Stitcher field. The blackboard set off by white numerals is perfect and its a big improvement at the North End diamond.

FRIDAY GAMES

Shamrocks at East Side (East Side)
Maccabees at V. F. W. (Community)
Lacy's at Keegan's (Campobello)

Lacy's Delicatets increased their lead in the City Softball League to one full game yesterday when they swamped the Veterans of Foreign Wars 25 to 1 on Taylor field while Manager Curtis Hickle's Fort Cumberland Post, American Legion tossers, defeated East Side at Community Park, 7 to 6, and moved into the runner-up spot.

Lacy's outfit smacked the offerings of Cage for twenty-five safeties in running roughshod over the Vets in the most one-sided game played in the league this season. "Babe" Crabtree led the attack with three singles and a double in five trips. "Snip" Hawse hit for the circuit and Jim Roby pounded out two doubles. Roby held the V. F. W. to five hits.

Trailing by one run going into the seventh, the Legion shoved over two markers to eke out a victory over East Side.

Larry Shaner opened the seventh by drawing a pass and then stole second. Howie Wilson got a life when Dick Aman, East Side shortstop, overthrew first, Shaner scoring on the play while Wilson advanced to second. Jim Gaffney won the game by poling a long triple to left, which scored Wilson.

Bob Dougherty and Larry Shaner rapped out two hits each for the Legion. One of Shaner's blows was a triple. Johnson, East Side left fielder, also clouted a three-bagger.

Williams Street put on a four-run rally in the sixth to come from behind and defeat the Shamrocks at Campobello by the score of 12 to 10. The game was limited to six innings on account of darkness.

Pat Algieri was the "big gun" for Williams Street with three hits in five times at bat while Harry Minnicks and Billy Dean collected two bingles each. Sheets homered for the Shamrocks.

Keegan's Jupers defeated the Maccabees on the Rolling Mill field by the score of 8 to 6. The scores:

Explorers Score Over Fort Hill In Extra Frame

Hits by Close, Esposito Decide Tilt; Creegan Strikes Out Ten

Jimmie Close's double and Johnny Esposito's base blast to left, his fourth hit of the contest, produced the run which gave LaSalle high school a 5 to 4 victory over Fort Hill's Sentinels yesterday in the final game of the series between the teams on the Fort Hill field.

The hits came in the eighth inning of a scheduled seven inning contest and the victory enabled Coach George Geatz's Explorers to square accounts for an earlier nine-inning 4-3 setback at the hands of Coach "Bobby" Cavanaugh's aggregation.

Yesterday's game was an erratic and slow moving affair and was marred by a number of arguments and ten fielding misplays, eight of which were charged to Fort Hill. The game started at 4:15 and ended at 6:55—lasting two hours and forty minutes.

LaSalle took a 2-0 lead in the first inning on Close's walk, hits by Esposito and Steiner and a bad throw to first base by Irvin Mangus. Fort Hill got one run in the first on Michael's pass, stolen base, Stakem's wild throw and Dick's two-bagger to right. The Sentinels knotted the count at 2-all in the second on Irvin Mangus's single, passes to Dean and Frye and Judy's infield out.

The Explorers scored one run in the third and upped their lead to 4-2 in the fourth when Jimmie Close hit a mighty home run to deep center field. Fort Hill, however, came back with two markers in the fifth to tie it up again at 4-4. Singles by Freeland and Jim Mangus, Brown's walk and a wild throw to the infield by Delaney produced the two tallies. The score remained deadlocked until LaSalle put over the clinching run in the extra inning.

Esposito and Close shared hitting honors, accounting for six of LaSalle's nine bingles. Esposito connected for four singles in five times at bat while Close blasted a homer and a double in four trips.

Pat "Lefty" Creegan yielded six hits, passed six and fanned ten. Paul Judy, who pitched 7⅔ innings for Fort Hill, was charged with the defeat. Larry Hansrote came into the game just in time for Esposito to greet him with the hit that decided the game, although Judy put the winning run on base. Judy fanned nine, issued five passes and hit one batsman.

The victory tied LaSalle and Beall for second place in the Tri-State Conference. Box:

TODAY'S GAME
Beall at Paw Paw

Sid Weinbach, Allegany high school's clever southpaw, made it four in a row yesterday when he pitched the Campers to a 4 to 0 decision over Beall high school at Frostburg State Teachers' College field.

It marked the second shutout triumph for Weinbach over the Mountain City nine, and yesterday's win gave AHS, defending champions, the undisputed lead in the Tri-State Interscholastic Conference with a record of five wins and one loss, the latter coming at the hands of Hyndman.

Lefty Weathers Storm

Weinbach was in plenty of hot water in yesterday's game but he managed to weather the storm on each occasion to gain the shutout.

In the second after two down, Farrady singled and Crump was hit by a pitched ball, but the AHS lefty killed the threat when he picked Crump off first base. Beall filled the cushions after one away in the fourth, then Weinbach dug himself out of this hole by striking out Farrady and Crump on nine pitches. In the sixth, Beall again loaded the hassocks after two out but Tommy Powers came to the rescue with a diving one-handed stab of Blank's line drive. Jimmie Radcliffe and Powers came through in the clutch in the seventh when the AHS catcher threw out Murray, trying to pilfer third, and the

Ted's Circuit Wallop With One on Base Defeats Cleveland Indians, 7 to 4

CLEVELAND, May 22 (AP) — Outfielder Ted Williams clouted a home run with one man on base today to give the first-place Boston Red Sox a 7 to 4 victory over the Cleveland Indians in a contest that went twelve innings.

The win moved the Bostonians up one full game in the standings, putting them seven games ahead of the second-place New York Yankees.

Williams's homer, breaking a 4-4 tie, gave him a total of 33 runs batted in so far this season. Before his twelfth inning circuit clout, he had gone hitless four out of five times at bat.

Johnny Lazor, starting at right field in place of Dom DiMaggio, who was benched with a pulled leg muscle, earlier sent the game into extra innings with his homer with none on base in the ninth, and was credited with four runs batted in. Box:

YANKS TRIP TIGERS

DETROIT, May 22 (AP) — Overcoming the shock of Hank Greenberg's three-run homer in the first inning, the New York Yankees bounced back to whip the Detroit Tigers 5 to 3 here today with the aid of a wild triple play in the eighth inning.

Everybody in the Yankee infield but Pitcher Jake Wade, who won the game in relief, had a hand in the triple-killing which doused a Tiger rally after Eddie Mayo had walked and moved to third on Jim Outlaw's single.

Dick Wakefield bounced to Nick Etten at first, who threw to the plate and got Mayo in a rundown at third. When George Stirnweiss tagged Mayo, Outlaw, who had turned toward third, and Wakefield legged it for second from opposite directions, arriving simultaneously. Outlaw then tried to get to third and was tagged by Joe Gordon and Wakefield tried to go back to first and was tagged by Phil Rizzuto. Box:

By C. V. BURNS

Jimmy Klosterman, the slim left-hooking middleweight was the most consistent winner during the 1945-46 amateur boxing season in Cumberland.

The tall southpaw socker closed the campaign with five wins in as many starts and his victories were scored over Jim Cecil, Fred Spencer, Pvt. James Brown, Curtis "Red" Portmess, all local boys, and Johnny Mason, of Washington, D. C.

Johnny Esposito, who hung the gloves, after engaging in four matches, and Johnny House, of Cresaptown, turned in records of four and nothing for the season.

Randall "Skeets" Starkey, the Fighting High School Boy" from Wiley Ford, ranked high on the list, his lone setback coming in a Washington, D. C. tourney.

The busiest boxer of the season was "Shoeless" Bobby Porter, who went to the post eight times and dropped six decisions.

The most consistent loser was Melvin "I Paw Down and Go Boom" Washington, who finished on the short end five times in as many starts.

According to the records, a total of ninety-six different local simon pures engaged in bouts staged here by two clubs.

Here's how the boys with two or more bouts fared during the six months' fall and winter campaign:

The eleven-inning pitching duel waged last Sunday at Stitcher field between Bill Stevenson, of Queen City, and Paul Fair, of Midland, was a real treat for the 500 fans who witnessed the thriller in which the Brewers were returned the winners over the up-creek team, 3-2, by virtue of some lusty hitting on the part of Harry Minnicks and Nick Perlozzo.

Fair yielded fifteen hits, Midland collected six off Stevenson, Queen City committed nine of the twelve fielding bobbles but only five runs were scored in the game and three of those were registered in the eleventh inning. It was a low scoring game due to the brilliant pitching of both slabsters in the pinches and the result was that a total of twenty-eight runners perished on the paths — 16 Queen City and 12 Midland players.

While Stevenson pitched eleven complete innings without yielding an earned run, Fair is deserving of special praise for his coolness under fire and the manner in which he pitched himself out of some very ticklish spots.

In the first, fourth and fifth frames Queen City runners occupied third and second bases after two down but were unable to solve the Midland righthander in the pinches. In the fourth Fair used sound judgment in purposely passing Minnicks to fill the bags, then made Winfield smack into a force out at third base.

In the eighth Minnicks again was purposely passed to load the cushions and Fair then put on the brakes by fanning Winfield for the third out.

Prior to passing Minnicks the second time, the Midland board of strategy beckoned John "Lefty" Rogish in from right field for a consultation. Rogish said:

"Put Minnicks on base, that's the play. I'd pass him myself if I were pitching. Let Fair finish the game. He's doing a good job."

Well anyway, it was a pip of a sandlot ball game and it was quite a relief to score that one over the eleven inning route after sitting through a number of poorly played nine-inning marathon affairs on previous Sunday afternoons.

The Speelman Ice Cream Company is deserving of a bouquet for that excellent scoreboard it has erected at Stitcher field. The blackboard set off by white numerals is perfect and its a big improvement at the North End diamond.

FRIDAY GAMES

Shamrocks at East Side (East Side)
Maccabees at V. F. W. (Commu..ty)
Lacy's at Keegan's (Campobello)

Lacy's Delicatets increased their lead in the City Softball League to one full game yesterday when they swamped the Veterans of Foreign Wars 25 to 1 on Taylor field while Manager Curtis Hickle's Fort Cumberland Post, American Legion tossers, defeated East Side at Community Park, 7 to 6, and moved into the runner-up spot.

Lacy's outfit smacked the offerings of Cage for twenty-five safeties in running roughshod over the Vets in the most one-sided game played in the league this season. "Babe" Crabtree led the attack with three singles and a double in five trips. "Snip" Hawse hit for the circuit and Jim Roby pounded out two doubles. Roby held the V. F. W. to five hits.

Trailing by one run going into the seventh, the Legion shoved over two markers to eke out a victory over East Side.

Larry Shaner opened the seventh by drawing a pass and then stole second. Howie Wilson got a life when Dick Aman, East Side shortstop, overthrew first, Shaner scoring on the play while Wilson advanced to second. Jim Gaffney won the game by poling a long triple to left, which scored Wilson.

Bob Dougherty and Larry Shaner rapped out two hits each for the Legion. One of Shaner's blows was a triple. Johnson, East Side left fielder, also clouted a three-bagger.

Williams Street put on a four-run rally in the sixth to come from behind and defeat the Shamrocks at Campobello by the score of 12 to 10. The game was limited to six innings on account of darkness.

Pat Algieri was the "big gun" for Williams Street with three hits in five times at bat while Harry Minnicks and Billy Dean collected two bingles each. Sheets homered for the Shamrocks.

Keegan's Jupers defeated the Maccabees on the Rolling Mill field by the score of 8 to 6. The scores:

Explorers Score Over Fort Hill In Extra Frame

Hits by Close, Esposito Decide Tilt; Creegan Strikes Out Ten

Jimmie Close's double and Johnny Esposito's base blast to left, his fourth hit of the contest, produced the run which gave LaSalle high school a 5 to 4 victory over Fort Hill's Sentinels yesterday in the final game of the series between the teams on the Fort Hill field.

The hits came in the eighth inning of a scheduled seven inning contest and the victory enabled Coach George Geatz's Explorers to square accounts for an earlier nine-inning 4-3 setback at the hands of Coach "Bobby" Cavanaugh's aggregation.

Yesterday's game was an erratic and slow moving affair and was marred by a number of arguments and ten fielding misplays, eight of which were charged to Fort Hill. The game started at 4:15 and ended at 6:55—lasting two hours and forty minutes.

LaSalle took a 2-0 lead in the first inning on Close's walk, hits by Esposito and Steiner and a bad throw to first base by Irvin Mangus. Fort Hill got one run in the first on Michael's pass, stolen base, Stakem's wild throw and Dick's two-bagger to right. The Sentinels knotted the count at 2-all in the second on Irvin Mangus's single, passes to Dean and Frye and Judy's infield out.

The Explorers scored one run in the third and upped their lead to 4-2 in the fourth when Jimmie Close hit a mighty home run to deep center field. Fort Hill, however, came back with two markers in the fifth to tie it up again at 4-4. Singles by Freeland and Jim Mangus, Brown's walk and a wild throw to the infield by Delaney produced the two tallies. The score remained deadlocked until LaSalle put over the clinching run in the extra inning.

Esposito and Close shared hitting honors, accounting for six of LaSalle's nine bingles. Esposito connected for four singles in five times at bat while Close blasted a homer and a double in four trips.

Pat "Lefty" Creegan yielded six hits, passed six and fanned ten. Paul Judy, who pitched 7⅔ innings for Fort Hill, was charged with the defeat. Larry Hansrote came into the game just in time for Esposito to greet him with the hit that decided the game, although Judy put the winning run on base. Judy fanned nine, issued five passes and hit one batsman.

The victory tied LaSalle and Beall for second place in the Tri-State Conference. Box:

Brooklyn Wins In Thirteenth On Walker's Hit

Dixie's Timely Double Sinks Chicago Cubs by 2 to 1 Score

BROOKLYN, May 22. (AP)—Dixie Walker doubled home Dick Whitman with one out in the thirteenth inning today to give the Brooklyn Dodgers a 2-1 triumph over the Chicago Cubs. The blow broke up a tight pitching duel between Chicago's Johnny Schmitz and Brooklyn's Joe Hatten and Kirby Higbe.

Hatten, worked the first twelve innings and gave up only four hits, while Schmitz went the distance allowing eleven safeties.

Brooklyn went into a 1-0 lead in the first inning when Ed Stanky walked and romped home on Billy Herman's double to right.

Chicago notched its only run of the contest in the second without the aid of a hit. Andy Pafko walked and moved to second as Bill Nicholson grounded out. Pafko then scored when Herman allowed Mickey Livingston's smash to go through his legs. Box:

SULLIVAN-KILRAIN bare knuckle fight July 8, 1889, was fought in a forest clearing

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first in a series on famous heavyweight championship bouts.

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Sports Editor

Last heavyweight championship bout fought with bare knuckles took place at Richburg, Marion county, Mississippi, the morning of Monday, July 8, 1889, in a ring set up on the edge of a pine forest.

The principals were the Boston "Strong Boy," John L. Sullivan, the London Prize Ring champion, and the challenger, Jake Kilrain, a Greenpoint, N. Y., former mill worker who had turned to boxing in 1883 after becoming a well-known single sculler, swimmer, trotting horse driver and dog lover.

Sullivan won when Kilrain's seconds threw up the sponge after 7 rounds.

Sullivan, a Boston "bad boy" who developed his bulging muscles by playing baseball as a youth, had become the bare knuckle champion in 1882 when he knocked out Paddy Ryan in nine rounds in Mississippi City, Miss.

Sullivan, fighting since 1878, was favored over Kilrain, whose real name was Joseph John Killion.

Both antagonists had engaged in many memorable battles, Kilrain going 106 rounds to a draw with Charley Mitchell in London in 1887 and Sullivan having fought a 39-round draw with Mitchell at Chantilly, France, in March of 1889.

William Muldoon trained Sullivan for the fight, teaching him many wrestling tactics.

Each side wagered $10,000 on the outcome and in addition, $20,000 went to the winner from the tickets sold.

The bout was fought in 110 degrees temperature. The referee was John Fitzpatrick, a local politician who didn't know anything about the rules but told the crowd he'd try to keep the principals in line.

It was a poor fight, according to newspaper descriptions, with Sullivan forcing the battle and Kilrain, shifty afoot, trying to avoid the strong boy's rushes.

"Only two or three times did Sullivan lose his temper in the ring" is the way one newspaper described the battle. Kilrain struck a dozen foul blows and once Sullivan jumped on Kilrain's stomach when the New Yorker was down.

The fight began at 10:10 in the morning and lasted for two hour and a half.

Sullivan continued fighting and also acted on the stage until 1896. He died at Abingdon, Mass., Feb. 2, 1918.

Kilrain also fought until 1896. He died at Quincy, Mass., Dec. 22, 1937.

Brooklyn Wins In Thirteenth On Walker's Hit

Dixie's Timely Double Sinks Chicago Cubs by 2 to 1 Score

BROOKLYN, May 22. (AP)—Dixie Walker doubled home Dick Whitman with one out in the thirteenth inning today to give the Brooklyn Dodgers a 2-1 triumph over the Chicago Cubs. The blow broke up a tight pitching duel between Chicago's Johnny Schmitz and Brooklyn's Joe Hatten and Kirby Higbe.

Hatten, worked the first twelve innings and gave up only four hits, while Schmitz went the distance allowing eleven safeties.

Brooklyn went into a 1-0 lead in the first inning when Ed Stanky walked and romped home on Billy Herman's double to right.

Chicago notched its only run of the contest in the second without the aid of a hit. Andy Pafko walked and moved to second as Bill Nicholson grounded out. Pafko then scored when Herman allowed Mickey Livingston's smash to go through his legs. Box:

"You'd think you were in the blade business, Ed..."

...the way you go 'round bragging about

PAL HOLLOW GROUND"

Lots of men would be perfectly willing to pay plenty for a really superior shave. Now they can have that superior shave, and pay no more.

Ordinary safety razor blades are ground like a pocket knife. Pal Blades are different—they're Leather Stropped and Hollow Ground just like a barber's razor.

Result: Pal Blades are flexible in your razor—follow facial contours effortlessly. Your shave is cool, quick, no "bearing down." And delicate edges last longer, too. That's why millions call it the Pal "Feather Touch" shave

AudienceProgram Takes Night Spot On Radio Chain

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK, May 22. (AP)—Fill for the Thursday night 9:30 spot has been decided upon by CBS with the return of J. C. Flippen to a network category. The program will be "That's Life," another of those audience participation series that fall into the general category of a quiz. Questions will be asked, and there will be a guest at the microphone starting with Bill Bendix, of the NBC "Life of Riley." J. C. will do the necessary em seeing.

Continuing on tour and making its third stop, America's Town meeting will be at Columbia, Mo., on the campus of Stephens college, for its weekly broadcast on ABC at 7:30. There the question to be put to a panel of four experts on the subject will be "Are Church Creeds Essential to a Religious Life?"

To make ready for a new program next week, "You Make the News" will be dropped by MBS after its 9 o'clock broadcast. The new show will be a musical variety piece.

For a change there will be a change in the guest on the Dinah Shore show of NBC at 7:30. Instead of the rather frequent caller Groucho Marx, it is announced as David Niven, of the film acting. . . . Robert Merrill from NBC steps over to CBS at 8 to guest sing with Ande Kostelanetz's music at 8. . . . Dean Murphy, who imitates, gets the honor place in the ex-Bing Crosby 8 o'clocker on NBC as now run by Eddy Duchin.

To start the second thirteen weeks of the "Carrington Playhouse" at 7 MBS has scheduled a love story, "Portrait of a Girl."

Dr. Alexander Silverman To Address Chemical Society Here Friday

Dr. Alexander Silverman, head of the Chemistry department of the University of Pittsburgh and former consultant on glass in the War Production Board's Office of Production Research and Development, will discuss new glass at a meeting of the Western Maryland section of the American Chemical Society to be held in city hall auditorium Friday night.

In 1930, Dr. Silverman was the delegate of the United States and the American Ceramic Society to the international meeting of industrial chemistry at Liege, Belgium, and also represented the National Research Council and the National Academy of Sciences at the tenth conference of the International Union of Chemistry in Liege.

Four years later he attended the ninth International Congress of Chemistry in Madrid, Spain, as United States and American Ceramic Society delegate, and also participated as a council from the National Research council and National Academy of Sciences in the eleventh Conference of the International Union of Chemistry. He also represented the United States and national scientific organizations at international conferences at Rome in 1938.

B. and O. Employes Have Get-Together

A group of employes of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company held an informal get-together and dinner Tuesday evening at Fisher and Robinette's restaurant, Baltimore avenue.

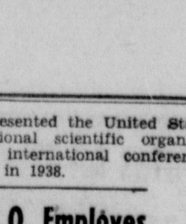

Clifford Gainor, chairman of the group, presided and approximately twenty-five employes from all the different departments of the railroad in Cumberland attended; including G. M. Grove, passenger agent; G. Melville Gimmel, head of the freight department; R. L. Ketzner, assistant chief clerk to the superintendent; and C. G. Hare, past chairman of the group.

Plans were also made to meet each month on the third Tuesday of the month. The place for the meetings to be announced later.

Making of Cement Block To Halt, Nestor States

Cement Products Company To Curtail Production Starting June 1

Manufacture of cement block by the Cement Products Company will be halted June 1 unless the OPA adjusts price ceilings on the product before that time, Charles L. Nestor, Westernport, president of the company, said last night.

Nestor and other local manufacturers of building materials and supplies attended a conference yesterday afternoon with two OPA representatives from the state office in Baltimore. The meeting, held in the local price control office in the Union Street building, was called at the suggestion of the state office to discuss the problem of price ceilings on building blocks.

Others present at the meeting were T. Lloyd Smith, LaVale, manager of the Cement Products Company plant; George K. Steiner, general manager of the Cumberland Cement and Supply Company; and Joseph M. Winters, Cresaptown, another manufacturer of cement block.

Backlog of Orders Cited

Stating that under present ceiling prices his company is taking a five and a half cent loss on each manufactured block, Nestor said that he had planned previously to take the action May 1, but decided to continue manufacturing the product until June 1 because many veterans in this area were building homes and needed cement blocks for construction.

He estimated that he has a backlog of orders for 500,000 building blocks at the present time. The company serves an area within a fifty-mile radius of Cumberland, including Romney, Moorefield and Petersburg, W. Va., Hyndman, Pa., and Flintstone.

Approximately half of the thirty-eight employes of the company will be affected if the action is taken, Nestor said, adding that fifty or sixty per cent of his employes are veterans. The company manufactures cement blocks for foundations and flues, and also supplies the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company.

Although manufacture of cement block is scheduled to stop June 1 pending price adjustments, the company's building supply business will continue, Nestor said.

Since the explosion at the company's plant on Henderson avenue last March, production has been impaired "quite a bit," he said, adding that new motors and other necessary equipment have not been received for installation since that time.

Notes Rise In Costs

Nestor said that 1925 was the last year in which the basic FOB plant price for cement block was changed, and that prices have remained the same until the present time, despite the rise in the cost of labor and materials.

In 1925, he said, labor costs were from twenty-five to thirty cents an hour, while todays minimum is eighty cents an hour; the cost of cement rose from $1.60 to $2.55 a barrel; limestone screenings rose from sixty cents a ton to $2.20 a ton; and the cost of sand increased from fifty cents a ton in 1925 to $2.40 a ton now.

Nestor, an overseas veteran, took over the business January 1 of this year.

Winters said that he will try to continue operations for another month, but added that he will have to close down at the end of that time unless prices are adjusted.

His business was started about two month ago, but in that time a backlog of orders for 40,000 cement blocks has accumulated, he said. He manufactures 300 cement blocks a day. A large part of the business consists of supplying cement blocks for veterans' homes, Winters said.

Steiner did not comment as to whether the Cumberland Cement and Supply Company would cut down on manufacturing of cement blocks, although he said that the company is several months behind in production as compared to the demand.

The OPA officials told the local manufacturers that they would be notified as soon as possible regarding any action to be taken in the matter of price adjustments.

700 Seniors Take Army Tests Here

Charles L. Kopp, superintendent of schools, said yesterday that nearly 700 seniors in Allegany county's public schools are taking a series of ten-hour Army tests.

The tests have no bearing on graduation but are being given throughout the state in an effort to measure the effectiveness of teaching according to standards established by an outside group.

Superintendent Kopp said that in the event the results indicate any glaring weaknesses in the system, steps will be taken to make corrections next year, if the weaknesses are considered important from a civilian, as contrasted to a military outlook.

Kopp said the tests were prepared by the army with the idea that soldiers should have certain basic qualifications. The tests are of a high standard, the superintendent declared.

The papers will not be corrected here but will be sent to federal officials for processing through machines which score quickly.

The tests cover the following subjects:

Correctness and effectiveness of expression.

Interpretation of reading materials in the social studies.

Interpretation of reading materials in the natural sciences.

Interpretation of literary materials.

General mathematics ability.

According to a statement on the tests they are for the purpose of measuring "intellectual power rather than rate of work."

The tests are of the multiple choice type which means the correct answers are given and the person taking the test must make a selection.

State Police Are Continuing Drive Against Speeders

Seven Arrests Made in Last 24 Hours; R. T. Wilson Fined $100

The state police night patrol consisting of Troopers G. M. Rotruck and William O. McElfish made a total of seven arrests for traffic violations in the last twenty-four hour period as the force continued its efforts to make Cumberland area highways safe for all drivers.

Rotruck and McElfish, operating Cruiser Car 91, narrowly escaped injury themselves Wednesday night when a car driven by Robert T. Wilson, 26, Kitzmiller, came over the hill on Route 220 at Danville on the wrong side of the road and almost creshed head on against the cruiser car.

The officers said Wilson stopped his car, then drove to the right side of the road, then drove to the wrong side of the road again where he finally parked. The officers arrested him for drunken and reckless driving and last night Magistrate Roy S. Bowman fined him $100 and costs on the drunken driving count.

Discharged Soldier Nabbed

Wilson admitted he was intoxicated but entered a plea of not guilty on the reckless driving charge—although he admitted he did not remember how he was driving when he was nabbed by the officers. He was not fined by Magistrate Bowman on the reckless driving count.

Trooper McElfish yesterday morning arrested a discharged soldier on Route 220 at Cresaptown—who was en route to the Celanese plant for his first day's work after receiving his discharge.

The veteran, Billy Timney, 25, R. D. Barton, breezed past the boulevard stop sign at Cresaptown on a motorcycle about 6:50 a. m. and according to McElfish was going around fifty-five miles an hour.

McElfish arrested Timney on three counts—failing to observe a boulevard stop sign, exceeding thirty miles an hour and for failing to have an operator's license.

Last night Magistrate Bowman fined Timney a total of $20 and costs on the three counts—five and costs for failing to stop at the stop sign, ten and costs for not having a license and five and costs for exceeding the speed limits.

Randall E. Beachy, Cresaptown, was fined $5 and costs by Magistrate Bowman for passing on a curve on Route 40, six miles west of Cumberland.

Other Motorists Fined

Christy Show, RD 2, Confluence, Pa., was fined $10 and costs of $1.45 for exceeding thirty miles an hour on Route 40, LaVale by Magistrate Bowman.

Arthur E. Robison, 92 West Mechanic street, Frostburg, was fined $5 and costs for failing to stop at a boulevard stop sign on Route 40 at Clarysville.

John Stevens, 154 Green street, Frostburg, arrested on a reckless driving charge on Route 220, Cresaptown, was fined $5 and costs. Trooper Rotruck said Stevens went through a stop sign.

Paul W. Whiteman, Beechwood street, Lonaconing, arrested May 18 at Lonaconing by Trooper Rotruck for exceeding fifty miles an hour was found guilty and fined $10 and costs before Magistrate Bernard F. McPartland Wednesday night.

Magistrate Bowman found Charles M. Engle, RD 1, Cumberland, guilty of reckless driving on the night of May 14 at 11 o'clock when the car he was driving ran off the Winchester road and careened into Warrior Run, injuring two occupants of the car.

Western Union Builds Towers Near This City

Workmen are now constructing a communication tower on Little Savage mountain, west of Frostburg, after completing a similar tower on Sideling hill, east of Cumberland, as part of a $60,000,000 project of the Western Union Telegraph Company to replace trunk wires by radio.

There will be eighteen towers in the link between New York, Washington and Pittsburgh, with nine of them located between Washington and Pittsburgh.

Eventually a nation-wide network of towers will be erected, replacing trunk wires between major cities, but wires still will be used to link smaller communities to the radio towers.

Built of steel, the towers range from ninety-two to 125 feet in height and are spaced about thirty miles apart, according to officials of the Sordoni Construction Company, Forty Fort, near Wilkes-Barre, Pa., which has the contract for the project in the eastern part of the United States. The towers will be lighted at night to warn airplanes.

Attendants will be on duty day and night in each of the towers, which will be equipped with intricate and costly devices to relay messages by radio.

Officials of the Sordoni firm said the first tower was built last November in New Jersey, and that it had been hoped to complete the work as far as Pittsburgh before fall, but that the steel strike and shortage of materials have delayed the work.

4 Divorce Actions Filed In Court

Mrs. Edna Devore Morris, Locust Grove, who has been married nearly twenty-three years, has filed suit in circuit court for a partial divorce from Pete Morris, and also asks for the custody of their five minor children. Two of their seven children are married, the youngest being seven years old and the eldest twenty-one.

Edward J. Ryan, her attorney, said they were married August 21, 1923, in Cumberland, and alleged that her health was impaired, as a result of his conduct and cruelty.

Chief Judge William A. Huster ordered Morris to pay his wife $15 weekly alimony pending a decision in the case, and restrained him from entering the home or molesting her in any way.

Mrs. Hazel Adams Kenner has filed suit for an absolute divorce from Charles E. Kenner, said to reside in Baltimore. The wife, represented by Ryan, said they were married November 14, 1928, in Cumberland and lived together until September 1, 1944. She also asks for the custody of their daughter, aged eleven.

Mrs. Dorothy M. Shanholtz Twigg also asks for the custody of a daughter, aged three, in a divorce action against Harry B. Twigg, Cumberland. The wife, represented by Edward J. Ryan, said they were married here November 8, 1941, and lived together until June 1, 1944.

Asking a partial divorce, Mrs. Mary E. Harden, Church Hill, Mt. Savage, has filed suit against Elwood Harden, alleging that he beat her and made false accusations of infidelity. Her attorney, Julius E. Schindler, said they were married May 10, 1943, in Frostburg, and lived together until May 13 of this year. She also asks for the custody of their daughter.

Associate Judge Walter C. Capper has ordered Harden to pay his wife $10 weekly, pending a decision in the case and restrained him from entering the home or molesting her in any way.

Local Guardsmen To Attend Camp

More than fifty members of Companies C. and D., of the state guard, are preparing to take a week of training, July 28 to Aug. 4, at Camp Ritchie, Capt. Thomas F. Conlon, announced yesterday.

Camp Ritchie, in Washington county, was recently turned back to the state by the federal government and has more than $6,000,000 in military installations. The Guard trained at Ritchie in 1942 but was at Fort George G. Meade the past three summers.

Although Company A at Frederick has been demobilized no plans have been announced for reducing the State Guard strength here, according to Conlon.

It was announced some time ago the Maryland National Guard would be reactivated in July but no details have been announced recently. The fact that camp training has been scheduled for the State Guard would seem to indicate the National Guard will not come back into the picture later.

Gypsy Sought Here Is State Prisoner

Woman Was Wanted in Connection with Defrauding Elderly Man

One of three gypsy women wanted by police for defrauding Howard Jesse Baker, 77, Oldtown road, of between $350 and $400 on April 18 is now a prisoner in the Maryland Reformatory for Women, but will be returned here for trial at the expiration of her two-year term, county authorities said yesterday.

The woman, identified as Helen Stanley, was arrested about two weeks ago in Queen Anne's county on a charge of defrauding a man out of money by the same method used on Baker. The gypsies assured Baker they would cure his granddaughter of an ailment by means of a "charm."

County Investigator Terrence J. Boyle, State Trooper A. M. Spioch and Baker went to the reformatory Tuesday and the elderly man identified the woman as one of the three who defrauded him, authorities said yesterday. State's Attorney Morgan C. Harris has placed a detainer against the Stanley woman and will bring her here for trial when she is released from prison.

None of the money taken from Baker was recovered, and police still are searching for the other two gypsies.

Baker was robbed after he placed between $350 and $400 in a small white cloth and handed it to the gypsies to be "blessed" as he watched. When they returned it he was cautioned not to open it for three days. He opened it a short time later, however, and found the money had been replaced by paper towels.

Testimony Heard In Used Car Case In Circuit Court

The civil appeal of Allen Schlosberg, local used car dealer, against Eugene Bowman, Sr., Meyersdale, Pa., as the result of a dispute over the sale of a 1938 model Pontiac automobile, yesterday was taken under advisement by Chief Judge William A. Huster following the presentation of testimony in the case.

Bowman, represented by Noel Speir Cook, contended the car was defective and he returned it to the dealer. Bowman filed suit in Trial Magistrates' Court and was given a verdict of $230 representing money paid on the machine, when the case was heard in March by Magistrate Frank A. Perdew. Schlosberg, represented by Edward J. Ryan, took an appeal to circuit court.

The car was sold under a warranty, it was said, and Schlosberg told Bowman, after the car was returned to the lot, that he would seek to resell it and reimburse him. Several local OPA officials were called in the case, but it was indicated that they would not appear as witnesses, since opposing counsel agreed that Schlosberg had always observed federal regulations in his business.

Bowman testified that he found the car defective shortly after purchasing it and admitted that repair work done at a local garage was paid for by Schlosberg.

PE Utility Workers Negotiate Contract, Get Wage Increases

A working agreement which provides for "substantial" wage increases for workers of the Potomac Edison Company's river plant, steamheating plant and Celanese sub-station has been negotiated between the company and Local 331, Utility Workers Union, CIO, according to James R. Dean, union president.

The union official said part of the wage boost is retroactive to November 1, 1945, and that the rest of the increase was effective from May 1. Shift differentials also are provided in the contract, he added.

Dean did not reveal the extent of the wage boosts but explained that they were in line with agreements reached with other power plants of the system. The agreement will be effective until May 1, 1947.

Local 331, Utility Workers became the bargaining agent of the unit early in March when a majority of the sixty eligible workers rejected representation by an AFL Electrical Workers local in favor of the CIO local.

Third of Miners In Garrett Stay Away from Pits

Two Mines Are Shut Down Completely, Another Closes Today

Three hundred and forty-five, or a third of the about 1,000 coal miners in Garrett county were idle yesterday as government seizure of the nation's coal mines became effective.

The Vindex mine of the Johnstown Coal and Coke Company suspended operations completely when its 230 miners stayed out of the pits, and the same condition existed at Earl Mine No. 2 of the Garrett Coal Corporation when its eighty miners failed to enter the mines.

Operations of the Wolf Den Coal Corporation at Shallmar were carried on with a crew of about thirty men, less than half of the normal 65, and H. A. Marshall, president, said the mine will be closed today.

Officials of District 16, United Mine Workers of America, when asked last night about the failure of the miners to work yesterday replied that they had no comment.

Appeared at Mines

Harold Adams, superintendent of the Vindex mine of the Johnstown Coal and Coke Company, said an average crew of about 100 men appeared at the mine shortly before 6 a. m.—starting time—yesterday but left a short time later without entering the mine. No miners at all appeared for the 3 p. m. shift, he added.

There was no disorder whatever, Adams said. He added that he thought the men were going to work but "the first thing we knew they were leaving."

Asked if the miners failed to work because of government seizure, Adams replied that they "weren't very communicative." He said a few mentioned about the government taking over the mines but that none of them said they would not work for that reason.

The mine "will be open and ready" today, Adams stated, adding that he hopes the miners will report for work this morning. Miners there turn out between 1,100 and 1,200 tons of coal daily, he said.

H. J. Pritts, superintendent of Earl Mine No. 2 of the Garrett Coal Corporation, located a mile east of Vindex, said a normal shift of about eighty men reported for work yesterday morning but left about half an hour later without entering the mine.

Seizure Not Mentioned

Pritts said the miners made no statements about not working because of the government seizure and mentioned only that miners of the Vindex mine of Johnstown Coal and Coke went home and that they also were leaving.

He said the miners were "real orderly." About 475 tons of coal is mined daily.

Marshall, of the Wolf Den Coal Corporation, said about thirty men went to work out of a normal crew of about sixty-five and that the mine will be closed today because the attempt at operation yesterday was not successful.

He said the miners made no statements about why they were not working.

William Jenkins, Frostburg, of the McNitt Coal Company, said that as far as he knew last night the Hamill mine at Kitzmiller was operated yesterday.

Closed for Funeral

Adams said that he understood all mines of the Davis Coal and Coke Company in West Virginia operated yesterday except the Kempton mine which was closed for a funeral.

Robert L. Stallings, secretary of the Georges Creek and Upper Potomac Coal Association, said last night that as far as he knows "everything in Allegany county is working."

Warden Print Wins Camera Contest

"Hokus Pokus," a print by J. C. Warden, won first prize at the monthly meeting of the Cumberland Camera Club last night at Knights of Malta hall.

The print pictures a magician pulling a rabbit out of a hat before the eyes of two startled young girls.

Second prize in the contest went to John R. King for "Rural Road", and third place was won by Sam Dooley's "Empty Creel—Vivid Imagination."

"Tom Boy", by J. C. Warden, took fourth place and "Dessert Is Served," by J. D. Smith, won fifth honors. Keith Sisk was judge.

A future program for the club whereby advanced amateurs will help newcomers to photography was discussed.

Members of the club agreed that W. F. Rittase, speaker and judge of the picture of the year at the club's annual banquet Monday, proved to be one of the best speakers to address the club because of his combination of humor and caustic criticism.

Cement Products Company To Curtail Production Starting June 1

Manufacture of cement block by the Cement Products Company will be halted June 1 unless the OPA adjusts price ceilings on the product before that time, Charles L. Nestor, Westernport, president of the company, said last night.

Nestor and other local manufacturers of building materials and supplies attended a conference yesterday afternoon with two OPA representatives from the state office in Baltimore. The meeting, held in the local price control office in the Union Street building, was called at the suggestion of the state office to discuss the problem of price ceilings on building blocks.

Others present at the meeting were T. Lloyd Smith, LaVale, manager of the Cement Products Company plant; George K. Steiner, general manager of the Cumberland Cement and Supply Company; and Joseph M. Winters, Cresaptown, another manufacturer of cement block.

Backlog of Orders Cited

Stating that under present ceiling prices his company is taking a five and a half cent loss on each manufactured block, Nestor said that he had planned previously to take the action May 1, but decided to continue manufacturing the product until June 1 because many veterans in this area were building homes and needed cement blocks for construction.

He estimated that he has a backlog of orders for 500,000 building blocks at the present time. The company serves an area within a fifty-mile radius of Cumberland, including Romney, Moorefield and Petersburg, W. Va., Hyndman, Pa., and Flintstone.

Approximately half of the thirty-eight employes of the company will be affected if the action is taken, Nestor said, adding that fifty or sixty per cent of his employes are veterans. The company manufactures cement blocks for foundations and flues, and also supplies the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company.

Although manufacture of cement block is scheduled to stop June 1 pending price adjustments, the company's building supply business will continue, Nestor said.

Since the explosion at the company's plant on Henderson avenue last March, production has been impaired "quite a bit," he said, adding that new motors and other necessary equipment have not been received for installation since that time.

Notes Rise In Costs

Nestor said that 1925 was the last year in which the basic FOB plant price for cement block was changed, and that prices have remained the same until the present time, despite the rise in the cost of labor and materials.

In 1925, he said, labor costs were from twenty-five to thirty cents an hour, while todays minimum is eighty cents an hour; the cost of cement rose from $1.60 to $2.56 a barrel; limestone screenings rose from sixty cents a ton to $2.20 a ton; and the cost of sand increased from fifty cents a ton in 1925 to $2.40 a ton now.

Nestor, an overseas veteran, took over the business January 1 of this year.

Winters said that he will try to continue operations for another month, but added that he will have to close down at the end of that time unless prices are adjusted.

His business was started about two month ago, but in that time a backlog of orders for 40,000 cement blocks has accumulated, he said. He manufactures 300 cement blocks a day. A large part of the business consists of supplying cement blocks for veterans' homes, Winters said.

Steiner did not comment as to whether the Cumberland Cement and Supply Company would cut down on manufacturing of cement blocks, although he said that the company is several months behind in production as compared to the demand.

The OPA officials told the local manufacturers that they would be notified as soon as possible regarding any action to be taken in the matter of price adjustments.

700 Seniors Take Army Tests Here

Charles L. Kopp, superintendent of schools, said yesterday that nearly 700 seniors in Allegany county's public schools are taking a series of ten-hour Army tests.

The tests have no bearing on graduation but are being given throughout the state in an effort to measure the effectiveness of teaching according to standards established by an outside group.

Superintendent Kopp said that in the event the results indicate any glaring weaknesses in the system, steps will be taken to make corrections next year, if the weaknesses are considered important from a civilian, as contrasted to a military outlook.

Kopp said the tests were prepared by the army with the idea that soldiers should have certain basic qualifications. The tests are of a high standard, the superintendent declared.

The papers will not be corrected here but will be sent to federal officials for processing through machines which score quickly.

The tests cover the following subjects:

Correctness and effectiveness of expression.

Interpretation of reading materials in the social studies.

Interpretation of reading materials in the natural sciences.

Interpretation of literary materials.

General mathematics ability.

According to a statement on the tests they are for the purpose of measuring "intellectual power rather than rate of work."

The tests are of the multiple choice type which means the correct answers are given and the person taking the test must make a selection.

State Police Are Continuing Drive Against Speeders

Seven Arrests Made in Last 24 Hours; R. T. Wilson Fined $100

The state police night patrol consisting of Troopers G. M. Rotruck and William O. McElfish made a total of seven arrests for traffic violations in the last twenty-four hour period as the force continued its efforts to make Cumberland area highways safe for all drivers.

Rotruck and McElfish, operating Cruiser Car 91, narrowly escaped injury themselves Wednesday night when a car driven by Robert T. Wilson, 26, Kitzmiller, came over the hill on Route 220 at Danville on the wrong side of the road and almost creshed head on against the cruiser car.

The officers said Wilson stopped his car, then drove to the right side of the road, then drove to the wrong side of the road again where he finally parked. The officers arrested him for drunken and reckless driving and last night Magistrate Roy S. Bowman fined him $100 and costs on the drunken driving count.

Discharged Soldier Nabbed

Wilson admitted he was intoxicated but entered a plea of not guilty on the reckless driving charge—although he admitted he did not remember how he was driving when he was nabbed by the officers. He was not fined by Magistrate Bowman on the reckless driving count.

Trooper McElfish yesterday morning arrested a discharged soldier on Route 220 at Cresaptown—who was en route to the Celanese plant for his first day's work after receiving his discharge.

The veteran, Billy Timney, 25, R. D. Barton, breezed past the boulevard stop sign at Cresaptown on a motorcycle about 6:50 a. m. and according to McElfish was going around fifty-five miles an hour.

McElfish arrested Timney on three counts—failing to observe a boulevard stop sign, exceeding thirty miles an hour and for failing to have an operator's license.

Last night Magistrate Bowman fined Timney a total of $20 and costs on the three counts—five and costs for failing to stop at the stop sign, ten and costs for not having a license and five and costs for exceeding the speed limits.

Randall E. Beachy, Cresaptown, was fined $5 and costs by Magistrate Bowman for passing on a curve on Route 40, six miles west of Cumberland.

Other Motorists Fined

Christy Show, RD 2, Confluence, Pa., was fined $10 and costs of $1.45 for exceeding thirty miles an hour on Route 40, LaVale by Magistrate Bowman.

Arthur E. Robison, 92 West Mechanic street, Frostburg, was fined $5 and costs for failing to stop at a boulevard stop sign on Route 40 at Clarysville.

John Stevens, 154 Green street, Frostburg, arrested on a reckless driving charge on Route 220, Cresaptown, was fined $5 and costs. Trooper Rotruck said Stevens went through a stop sign.

Paul W. Whiteman, Beechwood street, Lonaconing, arrested May 18 at Lonaconing by Trooper Rotruck for exceeding fifty miles an hour was found guilty and fined $10 and costs before Magistrate Bernard F. McPartland Wednesday night.

Magistrate Bowman found Charles M. Engle, RD 1, Cumberland, guilty of reckless driving on the night of May 14 at 11 o'clock when the car he was driving ran off the Winchester road and careened into Warrior Run, injuring two occupants of the car.

Western Union Builds Towers Near This City

Workmen are now constructing a communication tower on Little Savage mountain, west of Frostburg, after completing a similar tower on Sideling hill, east of Cumberland, as part of a $60,000,000 project of the Western Union Telegraph Company to replace trunk wires by radio.

There will be eighteen towers in the link between New York, Washington and Pittsburgh, with nine of them located between Washington and Pittsburgh.

Eventually a nation-wide network of towers will be erected, replacing trunk wires between major cities, but wires still will be used to link smaller communities to the radio towers.

Built of steel, the towers range from ninety-two to 125 feet in height and are spaced about thirty miles apart, according to officials of the Sordoni Construction Company, Forty Fort, near Wilkes-Barre, Pa., which has the contract for the project in the eastern part of the United States. The towers will be lighted at night to warn airplanes.

Attendants will be on duty day and night in each of the towers, which will be equipped with intricate and costly devices to relay messages by radio.

Officials of the Sordoni firm said the first tower was built last November in New Jersey, and that it had been hoped to complete the work as far as Pittsburgh before fall, but that the steel strike and shortage of materials have delayed the work.

4 Divorce Actions Filed In Court

Mrs. Edna Devore Morris, Locust Grove, who has been married nearly twenty-three years, has filed suit in circuit court for a partial divorce from Pete Morris, and also asks for the custody of their five minor children. Two of their seven children are married, the youngest being seven years old and the eldest twenty-one.

Edward J. Ryan, her attorney, said they were married August 21, 1923, in Cumberland, and alleged that her health was impaired, as a result of his conduct and cruelty.

Chief Judge William A. Huster ordered Morris to pay his wife $15 weekly alimony pending a decision in the case, and restrained him from entering the home or molesting her in any way.

Mrs. Hazel Adams Kenner has filed suit for an absolute divorce from Charles E. Kenner, said to reside in Baltimore. The wife, represented by Ryan, said they were married November 14, 1928, in Cumberland and lived together until September 1, 1944. She also asks for the custody of their daughter, aged eleven.

Mrs. Dorothy M. Shanholtz Twigg also asks for the custody of a daughter, aged three, in a divorce action against Harry B. Twigg, Cumberland. The wife, represented by Edward J. Ryan, said they were married here November 8, 1941, and lived together until June 1, 1944.

Asking a partial divorce, Mrs. Mary E. Harden, Church Hill, Mt. Savage, has filed suit against Elwood Harden, alleging that he beat her and made false accusations of infidelity. Her attorney, Julius E. Schindler, said they were married May 10, 1943, in Frostburg, and lived together until May 13 of this year. She also asks for the custody of their daughter.

Associate Judge Walter C. Capper has ordered Harden to pay his wife $10 weekly, pending a decision in the case and restrained him from entering the home or molesting her in any way.

Local Guardsmen To Attend Camp

More than fifty members of Companies C. and D., of the state guard, are preparing to take a week of training, July 28 to Aug. 4, at Camp Ritchie, Capt. Thomas F. Conlon, announced yesterday.

Camp Ritchie, in Washington county, was recently turned back to the state by the federal government and has more than $6,000,000 in military installations. The Guard trained at Ritchie in 1942 but was at Fort George G. Meade the past three summers.

Although Company A at Frederick has been demobilized no plans have been announced for reducing the State Guard strength here, according to Conlon.

It was announced some time ago the Maryland National Guard would be reactivated in July but no details have been announced recently. The fact that camp training has been scheduled for the State Guard would seem to indicate the National Guard will not come back into the picture later.

Gypsy Sought Here Is State Prisoner

Woman Was Wanted in Connection with Defrauding Elderly Man

One of three gypsy women wanted by police for defrauding Howard Jesse Baker, 77, Oldtown road, of between $350 and $400 on April 18 is now a prisoner in the Maryland Reformatory for Women, but will be returned here for trial at the expiration of her two-year term, county authorities said yesterday.

The woman, identified as Helen Stanley, was arrested about two weeks ago in Queen Anne's county on a charge of defrauding a man out of money by the same method used on Baker. The gypsies assured Baker they would cure his granddaughter of an ailment by means of a "charm."

County Investigator Terrence J. Boyle, State Trooper A. M. Spioch and Baker went to the reformatory Tuesday and the elderly man identified the woman as one of the three who defrauded him, authorities said yesterday. State's Attorney Morgan C. Harris has placed a detainer against the Stanley woman and will bring her here for trial when she is released from prison.

None of the money taken from Baker was recovered, and police still are searching for the other two gypsies.

Baker was robbed after he placed between $350 and $400 in a small white cloth and handed it to the gypsies to be "blessed" as he watched. When they returned it he was cautioned not to open it for three days. He opened it a short time later, however, and found the money had been replaced by paper towels.

Testimony Heard In Used Car Case In Circuit Court

The civil appeal of Allen Schlosberg, local used car dealer, against Eugene Bowman, Sr., Meyersdale, Pa., as the result of a dispute over the sale of a 1938 model Pontiac automobile, yesterday was taken under advisement by Chief Judge William A. Huster following the presentation of testimony in the case.

Bowman, represented by Noel Speir Cook, contended the car was defective and he returned it to the dealer. Bowman filed suit in Trial Magistrates' Court and was given a verdict of $230 representing money paid on the machine, when the case was heard in March by Magistrate Frank A. Perdew. Schlosberg, represented by Edward J. Ryan, took an appeal to circuit court.

The car was sold under a warranty, it was said, and Schlosberg told Bowman, after the car was returned to the lot, that he would seek to resell it and reimburse him. Several local OPA officials were called in the case, but it was indicated that they would not appear as witnesses, since opposing counsel agreed that Schlosberg had always observed federal regulations in his business.

Bowman testified that he found the car defective shortly after purchasing it and admitted that repair work done at a local garage was paid for by Schlosberg.

PE Utility Workers Negotiate Contract, Get Wage Increases

A working agreement which provides for "substantial" wage increases for workers of the Potomac Edison Company's river plant, steamheating plant and Celanese sub-station has been negotiated between the company and Local 331, Utility Workers Union, CIO, according to James R. Dean, union president.

The union official said part of the wage boost is retroactive to November 1, 1945, and that the rest of the increase was effective from May 1. Shift differentials also are provided in the contract, he added.

Dean did not reveal the extent of the wage boosts but explained that they were in line with agreements reached with other power plants of the system. The agreement will be effective until May 1, 1947.

Local 331, Utility Workers became the bargaining agent of the unit early in March when a majority of the sixty eligible workers rejected representation by an AFL Electrical Workers local in favor of the CIO local.

Two brothers were among the seven new enlistees for the platoon. They are Robert Graham Edwards and William Donald Edwards, both of Davis, W. Va. Third of Miners In Garrett Stay Away from Pits

Two Mines Are Shut Down Completely, Another Closes Today

Three hundred and forty-five, or a third of the about 1,000 coal miners in Garrett county were idle yesterday as government seizure of the nation's coal mines became effective.

The Vindex mine of the Johnstown Coal and Coke Company suspended operations completely when its 230 miners stayed out of the pits, and the same condition existed at Earl Mine No. 2 of the Garrett Coal Corporation when its eighty miners failed to enter the mines.

Operations of the Wolf Den Coal Corporation at Shallmar were carried on with a crew of about thirty men, less than half of the normal 65, and H. A. Marshall, president, said the mine will be closed today.

Officials of District 16, United Mine Workers of America, when asked last night about the failure of the miners to work yesterday replied that they had no comment.

Appeared at Mines

Harold Adams, superintendent of the Vindex mine of the Johnstown Coal and Coke Company, said an average crew of about 100 men appeared at the mine shortly before 6 a. m.—starting time—yesterday but left a short time later without entering the mine. No miners at all appeared for the 3 p. m. shift, he added.

There was no disorder whatever, Adams said. He added that he thought the men were going to work but "the first thing we knew they were leaving."

Asked if the miners failed to work because of government seizure, Adams replied that they "weren't very communicative." He said a few mentioned about the government taking over the mines but that none of them said they would not work for that reason.

The mine "will be open and ready" today, Adams stated, adding that he hopes the miners will report for work this morning. Miners there turn out between 1,100 and 1,200 tons of coal daily, he said.

H. J. Pritts, superintendent of Earl Mine No. 2 of the Garrett Coal Corporation, located a mile east of Vindex, said a normal shift of about eighty men reported for work yesterday morning but left about half an hour later without entering the mine.

Seizure Not Mentioned

Pritts said the miners made no statements about not working because of the government seizure and mentioned only that miners of the Vindex mine of Johnstown Coal and Coke went home and that they also were leaving.

He said the miners were "real orderly." About 475 tons of coal is mined daily.

Marshall, of the Wolf Den Coal Corporation, said about thirty men went to work out of a normal crew of about sixty-five and that the mine will be closed today because the attempt at operation yesterday was not successful.

He said the miners made no statements about why they were not working.

William Jenkins, Frostburg, of the McNitt Coal Company, said that as far as he knew last night the Hamill mine at Kitzmiller was operated yesterday.

Closed for Funeral

Adams said that he understood all mines of the Davis Coal and Coke Company in West Virginia operated yesterday except the Kempton mine which was closed for a funeral.

Robert L. Stallings, secretary of the Georges Creek and Upper Potomac Coal Association, said last night that as far as he knows "everything in Allegany county is working."

Warden Print Wins Camera Contest

"Hokus Pokus," a print by J. C. Warden, won first prize at the monthly meeting of the Cumberland Camera Club last night at Knights of Malta hall.

The print pictures a magician pulling a rabbit out of a hat before the eyes of two startled young girls.

Second prize in the contest went to John R. King for "Rural Road", and third place was won by Sam Dooley's "Empty Creel—Vivid Imagination."

"Tom Boy", by J. C. Warden, took fourth place and "Dessert Is Served," by J. D. Smith, won fifth honors. Keith Sisk was judge.

A future program for the club whereby advanced amateurs will help newcomers to photography was discussed.

Members of the club agreed that W. F. Rittase, speaker and judge of the picture of the year at the club's annual banquet Monday, proved to be one of the best speakers to address the club because of his combination of humor and caustic criticism.
